Economic Survey Reveals Nebraska Not 'Farm State'

13-Year Study Tells 72.9% Rise In Personal Income Since 1950

By DICK HERMAN

What may prove to be Nebraska's most meaningful economic fever chart in years was published Saturday by the University of Nebraska's Bureau of Business Research.

It came in the form of a slick-paper 82-page booklet entitled "Personal Income in Nebraska and Nebraska Counties, 1950-1962."

Several years in the making, the monograph was written by Dr. Wallace C. Peterson, chairman of the university's department of economics.

The terms are statistical and sometimes scholarly. There is no mistaking, however, the dollar-and-cents-mirror of Nebraska's pocketbook and factory and feedlot story for 13 consecutive years.

What is documented is a major transitional period in the state's history.

Economic growth is obvious.

Total personal income in Nebraska grew from $1,949 billion in 1950 to $3,369 billion in 1962, or 72.9%.

COMPARISON AVERAGE ANNUAL CHANGE OF INCOME, NEBRASKA GREAT PLAINS, UNITED STATES

Period of 1950-1962

Great Plains	+5.1%
United States	+6.0%

For Some—Chancy

For thousands of Nebraskans, real dollar gains were realized. They could have a higher standard of living.

But for other thousands, Dr. Peterson's study found the economic future became more chancy, less hopeful.

In 1950, income resulting from farm proprietorship accounted for 26.4% of all dollars received by Nebraskans. By 1962, this source represented only 14.7% of the state's income production.

Dr. Peterson laces his research paper with observations and statistics either at variance with prevailing Nebraska notions or of a disturbing nature.

For instance:

"The popular image of Nebraska as predominantly a farm state is simply no longer in accord with the real facts of the state's economy.

"In 1950, 28.7% of personal income originated in the agricultural sector, but by 1962, this proportion dropped to 16.0%."

At the survey period's conclusion, government — federal state and local — was found to be a richer source of dollars than Nebraska agriculture.

The NU economist also provided data challenging

Safety Warning Issued

Ryan Recalls 1964 Accidents

State Safety Coordinator Tom Ryan issued a plea to all motorists to observe the highway laws and drive sensibly.

Ryan noted that last year's Thanksgiving holiday period in Nebraska saw four deaths, 195 injuries and nearly 300 traffic accidents attributed to "caused collisions", or accidents caused by carlessness on the part of drivers or pedestrians.

Nebraska Safety Patrol Commander Col. Dan Casey said, "We all have an obligation to our families and to our fellow man to drive safely on the highways so that no one's holiday will be ruined by a tragic accident."

Football Traffic

Lincolnites were cautioned by Traffic Division Chief Willis Manchester to be wary of the huge flow of football game traffic expected in the city on Thanksgiving Day.

Route Changed For Downtown Holiday Parade

Parade route for next Saturday's downtown Christmas parade has been changed, parade chairman Gene Tice of the Lincoln Promotion Council said.

Tice said the parade now is scheduled to begin at 15th and N at 9:30 a.m., move west on N to 11th, north on 11th to O, east on O to 16th, where the parade will disband.

Earlier, the council said the parade would go a block farther west and would disband one block farther south.

Concert at 8 By Wesleyan Chamber Group

The Nebraska Wesleyan University chamber orchestra will play a free public concert at 8 tonight in the C. C. White Bldg. auditorium on the campus.

The orchestra will play Bach's suite in B minor for flute and strings, Beethoven's symphony No. 2, and hymn and fugue by Henry Cowell.

Pershing Rifles Set Memorial

A University of Nebraska Pershing Rifles unit will hold a memorial service Monday for the late President Kennedy.

The service will be at 4:30 p.m. on the east concourse of the NU Memorial Stadium

Members of the Pershing Rifles Co. A, Second Regiment, will place a wreath at the base of the campus flag. Col. William Bowers, professor of aerospace studies, will speak.

Representatives of Army, Navy and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps will participate in the service.

Later this week, Pershing Rifles members will host a national assembly of rifle units at the Nebraska Center.

The annual assembly of the ROTC honor group, founded at NU by Gen. John J. Pershing, will be Friday and Saturday

Sutherland Miss Is Honey Queen

North Platte (UPI) — Barbara Lavaley, 17, Sutherland, was chosen Nebraska Honey Queen at the 19th annual roundup of the State 4-H

Batchelder's Taunts Sting Fellow Senators

Within Nebraska's small-sized legislative family, the question of the weekend is:

How high the dudgeon?

In varying degrees, senators reported themselves upset over a speech delivered in Lincoln by a member of their organization, Sen. Clifton Batchelder of Omaha.

Batchelder advised a meeting of the Midwest Employers Council the Legislature is composed of "jackals and hyenas" who scavenge on the public treasury to enhance special interests.

'Low Opinion'

"Absolutely asinine!!" snorted Sen. William Hasebroock of West Point. Hasebroock is chairman of the Legislative Council's executive board.

"If he's a part of the Legislature, he must have a very low opinion of himself then," cracked Crofton Sen. J. W. Burbach.

Extended remarks came from Sen. C. W. Holmquist of Oakland.

"This goes right back to the so-called battle between Omaha and the rest of Nebraska," Holmquist said

'Against the State'

"I don't believe an out-state senator would have made the same statements. They reflect on the entire Legislature

"Sen. Batchelder talks as though he is running against the rest of the state of Nebraska," the Oakland lawmaker asserted.

As to Batchelder's declaration that employers and employes are equally unrepresented in the Legislature, Holmquist commented that in the Omahan's floor speeches, "he was certainly more biased for the employer than the employe."

Lee Quits Staff Of Congressman

Kearney (AP) — Rep. David Martin, R-Neb., has announced the retirement effective Nov. 30 of his administrative assistant, William P. Lee.

Martin said Lee had been hospitalized for several weeks this year and had been advised by his doctor to retire and take a complete rest.

Lee formerly was editor of the Ord Quiz and served on the staff of Sen. Roman Hruska, R-Neb., before becoming administrative assistant to another Republican congressman from Nebraska, Ralph Beermann.

Martin did not announce a replacement for Lee.

Upper Elkhorn

Norfolk (AP) — Rep. Clair Callan reports he is checking local interest on the Upper Elkhorn Basin flood control project and on a new post office or federal building combination for Norfolk.

Concrete Study Wins Award For Nebraskans

Two University of Nebraska engineering professors and one of their former graduate students have won the top American award this year for research excellence in the study of the vibrations of concrete.

They are Profs. Merlin L. James and Gerald M. Smith, both in engineering mechanics, and Loren D. Lutes, formerly of Loup City, an honor student who received his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University in 1960 and 1961. Lutes is now pursuing advanced study at the California Institute of Technology.

The award is the American Concrete Institute's Wason Medal for research and the recipients have been invited to accept their honor at the institute's 62nd annual meeting in Philadelphia March 10, 1966

Lincoln Center to Be Dedicated at 2 P.M.

By BESS JENKINS

Today's dedication and public open house are very much in order for the Lincoln Center for Community Services at 15th and N Sts.

But a housewarming would be unnecessary.

As the Woods family giving the $1,350,000 building to the citizens of Lincoln hoped, the distinctive but functional five-story structure already is the hub of social welfare activities working for a better community life.

Since early fall when the building was ready for occupancy, records show nearly 130 different meetings have been held in the Center's first and fifth floor auditoriums.

Nor does this include countless sessions called by the 20 agency tenants and held in the six smaller multi-purpose meeting rooms on the other three floors.

Community Chest Oversees

These welfare and health agencies have the Lincoln Community Chest as their non-profit landlord for this reason:

Through the Woods Charitable Fund, the Woods family gave $1.35 million to the Lincoln Foundation to build the Center. In turn, the Foundation leased the building for 99 years to the Lincoln Community Chest for a crisp $1 bill.

All tenant agencies pay rent by sharing actual costs of building operation in direct proportion to the amount of office space which each organization occupies

The Lincoln Foundation is host for both the dedication at 2 p.m. and the public open house from 3 to 5 p.m. On hand also will be agency

Jay Pledges Out to Set Dribble Mark

Ten fraternity pledges of the Iowa Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Creighton University continued dribbling a basketball Saturday night. They were in Lincoln late Saturday night.

Hoping to complete the world's longest fast break, the pledges started dribbling the ball from Kansas State University at Manhattan late Friday on the 225-mile trek to Omaha

They were averaging about five miles an hour in the daytime and six miles per hour at night. They work in relays of five miles per man.

The stunt is designed to call attention to the fast break of the Creighton basketball team and the opening game of the 1965-66 season with Kansas State on Dec 1.

Innocent Plea

Marine Reservists Fight on 'Second Front'

The Marine Corps Reserve has "tackled the problem of the second front."

To battle for the preservation "of human health and dignity," Gunnery Sgt. W. P. Moriarity of Lincoln, said, Reserves have formed the Marine Corps Reserve Circle Action Program.

Through the program, Marines will seek funds to aid civilian victims of the war in South Vietnam. The funds will be delivered by CARE to the Third Marine amphibious force in Vietnam

"This is the battle of the second front, gaining (Vietnamese) confidence and support, when no assistance can mean their death, and to relieve the human suffering and degradation they must contend with in their daily lives," the sergeant said.

"Without any doubt, Americans keep more medicines and food for their pets than an entire village in Vietnam is able to keep for their humans."

Sgt. Moriarity said he is displaying a film, "War Within a War," about the project for interested groups."

Contributions should be sent to CARE in Washington, D.C., he said, designated for the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund for Vietnam.

54.2% Rise in 13 Years

Per Capita Personal Income Reflects Real Economic Gain

In what has been a farm state, in what is a land of unpredictable weather, in what is a region of relatively sparse population, economic growth is not automatic.

It has been and remains a hard-won accomplishment.

Yet in the 13 years studied by a University of Nebraska research team, Nebraska's personal income increased over the level of the preceding year every year except 1953 and 1955.

On a gross basis, personal income grew from $1,949 million in 1950 to $3,369 million in 1962, a rise of 72.9% overall.

In the same period, the state's population advanced from 1,325,506 to an estimated 1,461,060, or 10.2%.

Putting income and population growth together, per capital personal income in the state increased 54.2%, from $1,472 to $2,270.

Real Economic Gains

To the extent that the average annual personal income rise of 4.7% is outstripped by the corresponding yearly per capita income gain of 3.8%, real economic gains were realized, research study author Dr. Wallace C. Peterson says.

Gross income figures represent only a point of departure for the serious researcher.

And the tables in the current Nebraska income bulletin exemplify serious work.

Table No. 1, for example, breaks down income by four major components — wages and salaries, proprietorship, property income (dividends, interest and rent) and transfer payments. Making up the latter are such things as Social Security checks, welfare and unemployment compensation payments, pensions, etc.

Among the four, transfer payments increased by the largest percentage during the 13-year interval, rising from $98 million to $231 million, or a jump of 135.7%. Much of this can be traced to federal funds.

Property income leaped from $219 million to $454 million, an increase of 107.3%, while wage and salary payments zoomed 106.1%, from $927 million to $1.91 billion.

The slightest income gain, against reflecting agricultural weakness, was in income from proprietorships. That source's income was only 17.4%, from $723 million to $848 million.

Farm proprietorship income, as revealed by Table No. 2, reflects an actual dollar decline.

Dr. Peterson says: "Farm proprietorship income in 1962 was 4.1% smaller than in 1950, although non-farm proprietorship income increased by 70.7% in the same period.

Refelcts Decline

"The failure of non-farm proprietorship income to grow to the same extent as other forms of income is a reflection of the absolute and relative decline in the importance of agriculture to the state.

"In rural areas, the fortunes of the small proprietor are closely bound up with those of the farmer, and when the latter experiences economic difficulty, this will inevitably bring the same difficulty to the former."

Economists like to talk in terms of per capita income. For a state to progress in an economic sense, Dr. Peterson says, "it is necessary for income to rise more rapidly than population." Tables No. 4 and 5 give per capita data by major components of income and in comparison with the Great Plains area and the entire United States.

In all 13 years under study, Nebraska's per capita personal income was below the U.S. average, but in eight of those years, the Nebraska figures exceeded the Great Plains states' average.

"In the growth of total personal income," the NU professor asserted, "both Nebraska and the Great Plains clearly lagged behind the rest of the economy. However the slower rate of growth of population in the Plains area enabled it to stay abreast of the nation as a whole in growth of per capita income."

This table dramatically shows agriculture's decline as an income producer and the growth of government as a dollar-provider.

Government's Contribution

In 1950, government — federal, state and local — supplied 12.8% of Nebraska personal income. This was up to 18.1% in 1962.

It should be noted, Dr. Peterson says, "the government catagory includes transfer payments as well as wages and salaries and other forms of income. Public school teachers are included under state and local government."

A further breakdown of where wages and salaries came from is described in Table No. 8. It is here that the relatively unchanged position of manufacturing is revealed, along with a decline in the importance of wholesale and retail trade.

In 1950, wholesale and retail trade was tops in being a source of Nebraska wages and salaries, providing 24.3% of the cash.

By 1962, trade and government were equal in importance as a source of money wages—each at 20.8%.

Dr. Peterson reports wages and salaries in "the public sector — i.e., government—achieved an annual growth rate of 7.9%." This was second only to wage gains in mining. For Nebraska, mining essentially means petroleum production. That occupies relatively few people.

The research paper warns that "as rural areas decline, so will the importance of retail and wholesale trade" which are dependent upon the economic fortunes of agriculture.

All charts are from report prepared by Dr. Peterson.

Decline in Agriculture Added to Urban Growth

any belief Nebraska has undergone any great industrial factory expansion.

Industrial Influence

The relative influence of manufacturing as a source of wages and salaries shows up as fairly static over 13 years. It did not take up the slack of an eroding agricultural base.

Dr. Peterson shows repeated concern over the makeup of Nebraska's population, more and more weighted with older citizens.

In some counties, he found, per capita income gains resulted because people moved away. Those remaining statistically got enlarged slices of the money pie.

"The conclusion is inescapable that the loss of population was a factor at least equal in importance to the growth of income in accounting for an annual average rate of growth of per capita income greater than the state average in 27 counties," Dr. Peterson writes. "From the point of view of the future economic well-being of the state, this is not a healthy condition."

In terms of national relationships, Nebraska's consistent economic growth was always behind the rest of the country.

The research paper reports the ratio of per capita personal income in Nebraska to the per capita average for the United States slipped from 98.7% in 1952 to 95.9% in 1962.

As agriculture declined, urban counties gained, although Grant County — in the Sandhills — retained its rank as the richest county in Nebraska, per capita.

Grant's per capita income in 1950 was $4,463. It was up to $4,767 in another 13 years.

'Giants' Grow

Yet the giants had much greater growth.

"In 1960, Douglas and Lancaster Counties accounted for 30.2% of the state's population and received 32.1% of the state's personal income.

"By 1962, however, the share of these two counties in the state's population had risen to 36.4% and their proportion of personal income had jumped even more sharply, to 42.2%."

Dr. Peterson says "there has been a strong tendancy for the larger counties to gain . . . both population and income.

" . . . In 1950, let it be noted, the smallest counties enjoyed the highest per capita incomes; in 1962, this situation had reversed itself."

The massive income survey underlines the geographical tendancy for eastern and south central counties to rise in economic rank "at the expense of those in the north and west."

Rather than income distribution becoming more uniform in 13 years, Dr. Peterson discovered the gap between rich and poor actually widened.

In 1950, the disparity between the wealthiest and poorest counties, on a per capita basis, was $2,312. This margin had advanced to $3,720 by 1962.

Christmas Rush Begins

Prison Heads Announce Plans

The Christmas shopping rush has already begun for inmates of the Nebraska penal institution.

The Christmas telephone calls and package program this year has an early deadline for arrangements by inmates.

Each man with an out-state home will be permitted a three-minute telephone call home between Dec. 15 and 24.

The men have the opportunity to order Christmas gifts to send out from catalogs from the complex novelty counter.

Gift Instructions

Nebraska penal complex administrators have also issued instructions for persons intending to send Christmas gifts to inmates.

Candies and shelled nuts will be allowed if they are sent in the original factory wrappings. Fresh fruits are permitted, but dried fruits and nuts, canned goods, and home-made foods will not be permitted. No clothing items can be sent with the exception of authorized shoes, and all perishable items must be in their original purchase wrappings

Any gifts arriving after Dec. 31 will be returned to the sender and those too early will be held until the appropriate date.

New Gym Facilities School Board Topic

Construction of new gymnasium units for the system's older junior high schools will be discussed by the Lincoln Board of Education at a public meeting 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in the Public Schools Administration Building.

A number of weeks ago, board members Edward Copple and Robert Magee raised the question of sufficient facilities for physical education classes at some of the older schools.

The district's three oldest junior high schools are Whittier, Irving and Everett.

The board's agenda includes a preliminary report on a new quarter-million-dollar project financed under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The first Lincoln Title I project was dropped following an attorney general's opinion saying it would be unconstitutional for public school teachers to perform services on parochial school premises.

Other items to be considered Tuesday:

Pedestrian crossing south of Riley School, a possible property purchase at 88th and Adams Streets and an explanation of a new federal aid program dealing with elementary library books.

Dr. C. Mayo Will Speak in Omaha

Omaha (AP)—Dr. Charles W. Mayo, former chairman of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., will speak at the presentation of the College of St. Mary Mercian Medal Dec. 12.

Identity of the recipient of the medal will not be revealed until the presentation.

Music Teachers Name Johnson

Columbus (AP)—The Nebraska Music Educators Association Saturday named B. A. (Bud) Johnson, Syracuse High School band director, as its president-elect.

Ronald L. Becker of Scottsbluff assumed the presidency at the current three-day meeting of the association which ended Saturday. The group met in conjunction with the Nebraska State Music Clinic.

Ron Nelson of Holdrege was elected chairman of vocal affairs and Morris Collier, Lincoln, chairman of orchestral affairs.

Ex-Lincolnite Elected Officer

Pittsburgh — W. Stanley Good, formerly of Lincoln, was elected president of the national Mental Health Association Staff Council at the group's annual meeting.

Good

Good, executive director of United Mental Health Services of Allegheny County (Pittsburgh), was executive director of the Child Guidance Center in Lincoln until 1959.

From 1950 to 1955, Good was chief of the office of Child Welfare in the Nebraska Department of Public Welfare.

Decision on Airport Property in Offing

By LEO SCHERER

Watch for some interesting development soon involving Lincoln Municipal Airport property.

Some City Council members strongly feel that the Airport Authority eventually should return to Council control all lands that aren't aviation-oriented.

There are going to be meetings between the Council and Authority on this property question.

Any decision might be hard to come by at this time, however, since no one yet knows what the federal government is going to return in connection with the June, 1966, air base deactivation.

The recent co-operation among the mayor, Council and Authority has been good and there has been much closer liaison among the three in the past year.

Around City Hall

Bone Types

With the help of an article in the Nebraska Municipal Review, here are the four kinds of bones of an advisory board, association or committee:

1. Wish bones — Members who want someone else to do the work.

2. Jaw bones — Members who talk a lot but do little else.

3. Knuckle bones—Members who knock everything others try to do.

4. Back bones — Members who get behind the wheel and do the work.

Work Lauded

There was lots of work done by different city departments on the wheel tax proposal that went to the City Council.

Acting Public Works Director Robert Obering, City Traffic Engineer Robert Holsinger and others put together a detailed report with graphs and much factual, pertinent information.

Councilman John Comstock was so impressed with the amount of work that he personally commended the departments for the presentation put on during the public hearing.

Obering feels that his department is now in a position to move ahead and tackle the critical street situation but must have the necessary funds to do the proper job.

Law in Effect

The state's new bottle club law is now effective and some eight Lincoln bottle clubs are involved.

The new law is slightly more restrictive than similar past legislation and now includes Sunday closing as far as liquor sales are concerned.

Although bottle club licenses are issued by the state Liquor Control Commission, the City Council makes recommendations on each application.

Lincoln's City Council favored the new bottle club law and supported its passage in the Legislature.

Two Churches Plan Services

Lincoln Christian Scientists will observe Thanksgiving with special services at their two churches Thursday.

Thanksgiving programs will be at 9:30 a.m. at Second Christian Science Church, 125 Eastridge, and at 11 a.m. at First Church, 12th and L.

Services will include a closing period when individual members may rise to express their individual thanks.

STATEHOUSE LETTER

It's obvious Lt. Gov. Phil Sorensen's position favoring the new state income tax is known in Omaha, a city where the tax supposedly runs neck and neck for popularity with bubonic plague.

Sorensen says he was asked to speak recently at a mass rally of a large Omaha organization.

Speak Right Up

Game Commission Director Mel Steen was clothed in a perpetual smile last week as several persons extolled his imagination, resourcefulness and far-sightedness.

The occasion, in Gov. Frank Morrison's office, was Steen's receipt of a conservationist award.

When it appeared one speaker might be hesitant about speaking his piece, Morrison waved him on, saying: "Go ahead. His head is about as big as it can get anyway."

Computer Debugging

Cost-oriented Willard Townsend, director of the Administrative Services Dept., says all of state government can benefit from a new computer being installed for the University of Nebraska.

The model is identical with a unit scheduled for delivery to the Statehouse in March. Programmers already are designing systems to be locked into the future computer's memory bank, systems helpful to making state government more efficient.

Townsend said his office probably will proof-test some of these new systems on the University's computer before they are adopted. That way, the bugs can be worked out in advance.

'They Also Serve . . .'

The setting was just perfect for a tax commissioner's hearing last week on rules needed to administer the new cigaret price fixing law.

The State Capitol room in which the hearing transpired was truly a smoke-filled chamber before the afternoon was out. Ashtrays were quickly heaped high with butts.

Tax Commissioner George Dworak was stumped by just one of many questions, to wit: "How does this law benefit the state?"

Dworak's response: "Only the Legislature can answer that one. We just administer the laws."

A report is the beer and liquor industry is looking carefully at the new price fixing law, with a passing thought the statute might have greater application in years to come.

Exalted Ruler of Elks Visits Here Tuesday

The grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, R. Leonard Bush of Inglewood, Calif., will return to his home state Tuesday through Friday.

Bush, a native of Deshler, will arrive Tuesday in Omaha.

He will head an automobile caravan Wednesday through southeastern Nebraska, stopping at Fairbury and Beatrice and participating in an 11 a.m. welcoming ceremony in Deshler.

The head of the 1.4 million-member Elks will be guest at an Elks luncheon Wednesday in Fairbury.

Bush will speak at a 6:30 p.m. banquet Wednesday of Lincoln Lodge No. 80.

Wearing University of Nebraska red hat and jacket, Bush will attend the Cornhusker - Oklahoma football game Thursday afternoon.

Three previous Grand Exalted Rulers have visited in recent years and have attended NU home games. Each time NU has won, beginning with the 25-21 upset over Oklahoma in 1954, according to Vince Collura, a former exalted ruler of Lodge 80.

On Friday, Bush will meet Gov. Frank Morrison and receive a commission as an admiral in the Nebraska Navy. After the ceremony, he will visit Boys Town near Omaha and is tentatively scheduled to visit the Strategic Air Command underground headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base.

Bush, 63, moved with his family to Redmond, Ore., at age 8 and since 1914 has lived in Inglewood.

TB Seals Are Mailed

Campaign In Later Start

The 59th Christmas Seal mail campaign to fight tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases was launched Friday, three days later than usual, according to William T. Edwards, president of the Lancaster County Tuberculosis Assn.

Christmas Seals are the sole support of the association and will finance the 1966 tuberculin skin test program in the schools, the chest x-ray survey, research and patient services. The amount needed is $20,800.

An added burden has been placed on the association, Edwards said, by the need for an extra skin test study of 11th grade students from the four Lincoln high schools who were "reactors" in the tuberculin skin test survey of 10th graders during March and April of 1965. They are being tested for chromogen infection.

The research divisions of the National Tuberculosis Assn. and the U.S. Public Health Service had advised the association's medical advisory committee that the behavior and size of many of the tuberculin reactions suggest infection with "a-typical mycobacteria" or "chromogens." Tuberculosis and chromogen disease and the germs that cause them are very similar. Mrs. Dorothy Ogden, executive secretary of the Tuberculosis Assn. explains.

Lincoln's Third Annual CHILDREN'S CHRISTMAS PARADE!

Saturday, November 27, 9:30 a.m.

Here comes the most ferocious circus animal — a 65 ft. long leopard. Compare his size to the men standing next to him!

You're all invited to come along and join the fun on Saturday, November 27, at 9:30 a.m. for the Childrens Christmas Parade. There will be bands, floats, clowns, giant balloons and, of course, SANTA CLAUS! Children and grown-ups alike will glow with excitement when the huge balloons pass by. You'll see "Christmas Toys and Circus Joys" with Santa's Bus, The Christmas Stocking, Miss Hippo, Elephants On Parade and many others, all packed into a parade that spells fun for everyone.

There'll be colorful figures, gay music and "goodies" aplenty, so be sure to begin your holiday festivities by seeing the Children's Christmas Parade!

And here's a bright circus clown — riding a 15 ft. rhino balloon! Another highlight of the third annual Children's Christmas Parade.

Wouldn't the children love to ride this funny pony? He's a 13 ft. long zebra—guaranteed to make the children's eyes sparkle!

HERE COMES THE PARADE!

Starting at 9:30 a.m. at the corner of 15th and N, the parade will proceed west on N to 11th, north on 11th to O, east on O to 16th, and south on 16th to N. Better come down in plenty of time, to reserve your section of curb!

3 Lancaster Senators Want City School Board Out of Unit

Three of Lancaster County's five state senators Saturday said the Lincoln Board of Education would be well-advised to stay out of the educational service unit to which it was assigned by the 1965 Legislature.

Taking this view were Sens. Fern Hubbard Orme, John Knight and Hal Bauer.

The two other Lancaster lawmakers, Sens. Marvin Stromer and Jerome Warner, said they don't know what course would be best.

19 Service Units

In enacting LB301, the Legislature distributed the state's 93 counties into 19 educational service units.

Multi-county boards of education in these units are empowered to levy a tax of up to 1 mill for the provision for supplementary educational services.

However, both Omaha and Lincoln school districts were given the option of staying out of their regional groupings.

The rationale was that Nebraska's two largest school districts already are providing many services envisioned under LB301.

More Loss

Lincoln Supt. Steven N. Watkins has indicated he sees more loss than gain for the Capital City school district if it remains in a service unit involving Lancaster, York, Seward, Saline and Fillmore counties.

On the other hand, Mrs. J. F. Lucas, a member of the Omaha Board of Education, said Omaha probably will remain in its service unit.

That association involves school districts in Washington, Douglas, Sarpy and Cass counties.

LB301 was passed by the Legislature without a vote to spare, 25-17. All Lancaster County senators, except Knight, supported the bill.

The lawmakers had these comments Saturday:

Mrs. Orme—"I voted for the bill on the basis that Lincoln could get out and I think it should." A former teacher, Mrs Orme said she is aware "there is a great need for supplementary services in the state . . . but I am not at all pleased with the bill." She pointed out Lincoln's effort over the years to provide youth with a well-rounded educational program.

Bauer—"I think probably we're better out of it. Lancaster County senators went along with the bill to give out-state senators what they said they wanted. The bill is designed for out-state areas."

Knight—"Lincoln should get out for two reasons. First, Lincoln taxpayers would have double taxation, paying for programs they already support plus new ones. Secondly, the setup under LB301 was never explored in any depth. By frank admission of one of the proponents, this was a way to get the foot in the door for additional taxes. It's one mill now and could go up three, four and five mills later."

Stromer—"I know there's a taxation question involved. The bill is primarily geared for area services. The school board will have to be the judge of what's best."

Warner—"I don't really know, although I can see conditions where it would be best for Lincoln to get out." These would be the double taxation conditions, Warner said.

Stromer thinks Lincoln runs a political risk in future Legislatures if the Lincoln school district is the only one in Nebraska out of the educational service unit pattern.

"There is every good possibility it would be politically harmful" in future Legislatures, Stromer said.

Mrs. Orme, Knight and Bauer believe Lincoln interests would not suffer in future political struggles if the school district is out of the five-county service unit.

Nebraska Center Near 1,000 Mark

By DICK HERMAN

To Gibbon math teacher, Robert J. Langin, goes the seasonal award for breaking up what began as a serious meeting.

Teachers, school board members and superintendents were engaged in an intense panel-audience discussion on what should be the teacher's role in a community.

During a hot exchange, Langin rose and moderator Anne Campbell, Lincoln administrative staffer, recognized him.

"I really don't have anything to say," Langin commented, running a thumb around the inside of his trouser tops. "I just wanted to adjust my shorts."

Thank You Note

Today's effort is the final education column programmed for or by this passing scene transient. New duties have been assigned.

and school board members and even students have supplied the grist for this mill. To them, without stint, goes sincere thanks.

Center's Milestone

Another milestone, of sorts, will take place next month.

Informants advise that sometime in December, the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education should hold its 1,000th conference since opening July 1, 1961. Also, the 75,000th registrant is to check in, also in December.

National Testing

State Education Commissioner Floyd Miller will officially be at his desk Monday after sloshing around flooded Honolulu, attending the annual meeting of chief state school officers.

In Hawaii, federal officials and even a psychologist explained that the achievement sampling under new national education aid laws does not constitute massive testing. U.S. Commissioner Francis Keppel doesn't see how a 1% sampling can be equated with national testing.

James E. Allen Jr., New York state commissioner, counseled his compatriots some form of national education assessment is inevitable and state authorities should help guide the program, rather than dismiss it out of hand.

Finishing Up:

—Beginning next fall, Fairbury Junior College will have three tuition rates—for residents, non-residents and non-Nebraskans.

Business Bureau Growing

400 Firms Back Service

Both the community and the Better Business Bureau of Lincoln have grown substantially since 1938 when the latter was founded to protect the former's consumer dollars.

The bureau, for example, had 27 member firms at the outset in 1938. Today there are 400 member firms who finance this service for the public's protection and business' good name.

However, there is little fundamental change throughout these years in some basic practices by individuals and watchdog services of a Better Business Bureau important to any community.

Only the approach and the "dressings" have changed in some instances to keep pace with the times, says Bureau President Tom Allman.

Until food freezers became an accepted household appliance, this incident couldn't have happened as it did in Lincoln and Omaha earlier this year:

800 Pounds

A freezer-food plan was offered by salesmen who signed up more than 100 Lincoln families to a deal that provided 800 pounds of food for $700.

Consumers received the first quarterly delivery, then the men went out of business and sold their contracts to a financial institution.

Buyers subsequently were informed they had to continue monthly payments to the institution, even though food deliveries were discontinued, according to the Business Bureau here.

An alternative to making the payments has been to initiate court action.

This, reports Manager Arnold Magnuson, is just one incident.

A variety of questionable business and advertising contracts were suspicious enough to produce more than 8,000 complaints and inquiries to the Lincoln bureau during the past year.

Should Be Alert

Magnuson said the public also should be alert and ask themselves what percent of their contributions to mail solicitations for causes go to professional promoters and what the organizations get.

As a reminder, he cites the three promoters, subsequently given prison terms, who ran the Sister Kenny Foundation fund raising campaign in recent years.

Manguson recalls the three from the $20 million they raised to combat crippling diseases.

Union Complaint May Be Quashed

Washington (UPI)—A trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board has recommended a complaint be dismissed against B. Rothschild & Co., an Omaha packing firm, and its president, Bernard Rothschild.

The complaint had been filed by Local 28 of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters & Butcher Workmen of North America.

The union had charged the firm laid off a union steward, Frank Faulks, because of his union activities. The firm, however, contended that Faulks was laid off because of his frequent tardiness and his slowness in working.

200 Safety Leaders to Meet Here

2-Day Institute At Neb. Center

Two hundred Nebraska safety leaders will study industrial, small business, traffic, home, recreational and farm safety here Monday and Tuesday.

Keynote speakers at the third annual Accident Prevention Institute will be Marvin B. Travis of Omaha, Northern Natural Gas Co. safety director, and J. B. (Hank) James of Lincoln, Dorsey Laboratories sales development manager.

The Nebraska Center conference will include divisional meetings each morning with safety specialists from Midwestern firms speaking.

Traffic safety will be discussed at luncheons. Robert F. Mills of Denver, safety supervisor for Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Co., will speak Monday. Amos E. Neyhart, director emeritus of the Pennsylvania State University Institute of Traffic Safety, will speak Tuesday.

Afternoon meetings will be for special interest groups. The Nebraska Farm Safety Council, Federation of Women's Clubs, Optometric Assn., School Administrators Assn. and Safety Council will sponsor them.

The Institute will include a dinner Monday night, sponsored by the Great Plains Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers.

Tom Carroll, executive director of the Nebraska Safety Council, said the Council and the University of Nebraska Agriculture Extension Division will co-sponsor the Institute.

27th-South Zoning Plea Will Be Heard

A request to change the zone of the northwest corner of 27th and South Sts. tops the City-County Planning Commission agenda for Wednesday at 3:30 p.m

Louis Svoboda and others are asking the property to be re-zoned to G Local Business on three lots. It presently is zoned B Two Family Dwelling.

Planning Director Douglas Brogden is recommending denial of the request since there is "considerable land in the general neighborhood that is zoned for business use."

He also believes that there is no public need for additional business uses in the general neighborhood, and it would have an adverse effect on the traffic of 27th and South Sts. and adjacent residential property.

The commission is slated to consider two other zone change requests for property on the southwest corner of 48th and Hartley Sts and in Emerald

George Cortield and others request a change from A-2 Single Family Dwelling to K Light Industry at 48th and Hartley, and Merle's Inc. requests a change of Zone 12 in Emerald from agricultural to commercial.

Other business includes request for a special permit by the Cornhusker Motor Club to construct and operate an off-street parking lot on the southeast corner of 29th and P Sts. and a proposed amendment to permit service uses in the H-1 and H-2 districts.

A preliminary and final plat of the Sias Industrial Center north of Fletcher, east of 26th St., extended was held over from the last meeting.

Book, Panels Honor Benefactors Of Foundation Endowment Fund

A Lincoln Foundation annual report booklet for each dedication and open house visitor at the Lincoln Center today explains why the names of 21 prominent Lincolnites are inscribed in bronze on the north wall panels of the lobby.

These are the initial group of benefactors contributing or having $25,000 or more given in their memory to the Foundation's newly-created endowment fund.

As of today, this new resource for the community coming from Lincolnites totals $646,300.

Panel of Names

The central panel among the five designed of Italian travertine to form the north lobby wall recognizes the total gifts of $1,585,000 from the Woods Charitable Fund, including the $1.35 million for the Lincoln Center.

Bronze inscription on this panel includes the names of Frank H. Woods and Nelle Cochrane Woods, who founded the philanthropic organization carried on by the family today.

Benefactors' Names

Benefactors names inscribed on the other panels are:

Mrs. George P. Abel, Alfred DuTeau, Nathan J. Gold, Daniel Hill, William W. Putney, Paul C. Schorr, Jr., Joe W. Seacrest.

Deceased benefactors recognized are:

George P. Abel, Victor E. Anderson, S. Walter Anderson, Arthur Allan Dobson, William Gold, Ernest U. Guenzel, George W. Holmes, Dr. C. F. Ladd, Harold C. Mayer, Charles J. Olson, J. C. Seacrest, Edward J. Walt, Arthur J. Weaver and Howard S. Wilson.

This new perpetual income for operational expenses of the Foundation and a source of funds for charitable and educational purposes of a community foundation began at a meeting of civic leaders in July, 1964.

The initial success has been directed by Nathan J. Gold as chairman, assisted by two Lincoln Foundation fellow members, Joe W. Seacrest and William I. Aitken.

As direct contributions and pledges to this fund are received, the money is invested and held in trust by either National Bank of Commerce or First National Bank.

Endowment Funds

The Foundation report also lists these gifts: endowment fund memorials — Martin I. and Clara Aitken, $1,000; Charlotte C. Ricketts, $1,000 and Joseph Simon, $1,000. Endowment fund gifts—Mr. and Mrs. William I. Aitken, $1,000. Memorial contributions administered through the endowment fund—The J. C. Seacrest Scholarship Fund of $25,000 with income used by University of Nebraska School of Journalism for scholarships as decided by the dean; the J. C. Seacrest Scholarship Fund of $2,500 for Nebraska Wesleyan University students, income to be used for journalism students or related subjects; and the Teal Campshire for Camp Fire girls, honoring Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Teal, Sr., using income only.

The Woods Charitable Fund gifts of $235,000, exclusive of the $1.35 million for the Lincoln Center, have been made throughout the Lincoln Foundation's 10-year history as trust accounts honoring the late Col. Frank M. Woods, Nelle Cochrane Woods and Frank H. Woods, Sr.

It was Frank H. Woods, Jr., of Chicago who, in 1954, encouraged the founding of the Lincoln Foundation to serve the community. This became a reality in April, 1955

As of Sept. 30 of this year, the Lincoln Foundation's assets were $1,611,651, including ownership of the Lincoln Center valued today at $1,300,117.

Treasurer Behind on His Mail

Tax-Paying Period Busy

By HAROLD SIMMONS

If you've written a letter to the county treasurer's office that needs a reply, don't count on hearing from them immediately

At last count there were five large cardboard boxes in the county treasurer's vault filled with packs of unopened letters.

This may sound pretty bad, but they've had up to six boxes of unopened mail at times.

The reason for the unopened letters is that a large number of people pay their county property tax by mail, and the treasurer's office simply does not have enough people to open it as fast as it arrives.

County Treasurer Carl Berg said his staff has been working overtime opening mail and recording payments and they're still behind. But he said the pressure would be off when the delinquent date for the 1965 taxes arrives Dec. 1.

Heavy-Footed

The latest addition to the courthouse's somewhat time-worn decor is a large hole in the hallway ceiling of the third floor near the Civil Defense office.

Courthouse Call

While making a routine fire check in the attic, watchman Reinold Opp slipped off the catwalk and put his foot through the ceiling.

Opp was not hurt and reported he was not quite sure exactly how the accident happened.

A Second Look

Two of the busiest offices in the courthouse the past few days have been those of the county assessor and the county treasurer.

Realizing their taxes are coming due, people apparently have been taking a second look at what they have to pay.

This often prompts a visit to the assessor's office to see why they're being charged such and such an amount this year, "why?" this particular item this year, or perhaps why they're being taxed for something they think their neighbor or friend isn't.

When they get their answer, satisfactory or not, it's up the stairs and down the hall to the county treasurer to make the payment.

It's a Sensation

If anyone puts up too strenuous an argument about the need for a new Courthouse, invite them to visit the district court rooms.

Walking across the court rooms gives one a sensation similar to walking on sponge rubber or a deep-pile rug.

In addition to the gentle "give" in the floor each time you put your foot down, you also usually get a few squeaks from the old linoleum covered floor

Commission Advises Water Be Under Single State Unit

By DEL SNODGRASS

A Nebraska legislative committee delving into Nebraska's water problems has received some unsolicited yet pertinent advice from the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

That advice: Place the overall responsibility for water resource planning, policymaking and coordination with a single unit of state government.

The advisory commission is a permanent, bi-partisan body established under 1959 federal legislation to give continuing study to relationships among local, state and national governments.

Its recommendation concerning the ever-growing national problem of maintaining an adequate supply of unpolluted water has been sent to governors and legislative leaders in all the 50 states.

The advice was timely in that the Nebraska Legislature's interim water study committee heard much the same recommendation last week from two state water resource experts.

Basically, only the State Water Resources Division headed by Dan S. Jones Jr. has jurisdiction over the administration of water rights and flow in Nebraska.

But other state agencies are interested in water for different reasons.

The Game Commission is interested from a recreational standpoint while the Health Dept. is fighting a continual battle against stream pollution.

The Soil and Water Conservation Commission is actively engaged in the promotion of watersheds.

The advisory commission points out that with the rapidly expanding and often competing needs of agriculture, industry, recreation and urban areas for more clean water, "there is an urgent need to assure that these demands are met in a coordinated way."

"As the level of government with basic responsibility for resource development," the commission said, "the states have an excellent opportunity to establish water resource policies, planning procedures and coordination that is comprehensive enough to balance multiple uses with one another and overcome jurisdictional problems."

To aid the states, the commission is supplying them with model legislation to vest the planning and coordinating function in a single executive agency responsible to the governor.

The model bill also would:

—Allow participation in the development of recommended water policies by affected or interested state agencies and others.

—Give the governor authority to adopt comprehensive and coordinated water resource plans and policies as a guide for executive agencies.

—Leave such programs as pollution control, development of new water supplies and allocation of water rights to agencies now charged with those responsibilities.

The commission also sent each state model legislation for state control of urban water supplies and sewerage systems.

This legislation, the commission said, "would go a long way toward properly meeting the critical water needs of urban areas, assure sound and orderly urban development, protect public health and provide a reasonably economic and long-term solution to the problems of obtaining and disposing of water."

City Council, Mayor Plan Bus Tour to West Lincoln, 40th and Cornhusker Monday

Lincoln's mayor, City Council and other interested persons will tour Lincoln's fringe areas by bus Monday at 9 a.m. for a look at areas under consideration for annexation.

The tour leaves City Hall at 9 a.m. and is expected to take most of the morning. Council members recently requested the tour.

City officials say the stops probably will include West Lincoln, the recently annexed land near 40th and Cornhusker and several areas on the south side of the city.

In other Monday business, the council has:

Bottle Club—Public hearing on application of Lincoln Motel Corp. for a bottle club license at 5250 Cornhusker Highway.

Hearing—Resolution setting a public hearing on application of J. Robert Scott for a bottle club license at 13th and L Sts.

Tax Exemption -- Application for tax exemption by the American Legion on property at 200 No. 56th St.

West Lincoln—An ordinance on first reading to annex the incorporated village of West Lincoln.

Because of the morning bus tour, the council will hold no special Monday morning session.

There is the possibility that a council vote or more discussion will be held Monday on the two one-way street systems now on the pending list.

Council members have said they are awaiting a full council before taking further action. All members are expected Monday.

Final Reading and Public Hearing

Salaries—Ordinance fixing the schedule of city pay ranges.

Second Reading and Public Hearing Nov. 29

Zoning Change—From AA Rural and Public Use to G Local Business, 84th and A, requested by Whitehead Oil Co.

Subdivisions—Making changes in final approval requirements.

Advertising—Allowing beer and liquor licensees to advertise and solicit business which now is prohibited by city ordinance.

First Reading and Public Hearing Dec. 6

Annexation—An ordinance annexing the incorporated village of West Lincoln.

Pending

Vacation—46th St., Vine to R St.

Plat—Huntington First Addition—vicinity of Broadmoore Drive and "A" St.; plat of Huntington first addition.

One-way Street System — 1 central business district in accordance with Traffic Engineer's Plan with amendments, in central business district in accordance with Barton-Aschman Plan.

Zoning Change—From A-1 single family to G Local Business, Southeast corner of Norman Road and Old Cheney Road.

At this period of Thanksgiving may we all realize our many blessings in this land of opportunity.
As you pause in Reverence and Thanksgiving, please say an extra Prayer for those less fortunate than ourselves, and especially for those that are giving of themselves that our Nation shall always be free.
We are sincerely grateful for our many friends and associates. 21c

If you have some money, you view with alarm,
Why not invest it in a real good farm?
The soil is deep, it is fertile and rich,
Not a hill or gully or even a ditch.
If you like the sound of a home on the range,
Drive out to the Goehner Interchange.
Cross over the bridge and if you like what you see,
Stop in and visit with Florence and me.
So dig up that bucket, and be sure its clear full.
The farm is a good one, this is no bull. 23

Dear Homeowner:

Planning to sell your home? Here are a dozen reasons why it is so important to price residential property realistically:

1. Over pricing reduces the response the Realtor will receive from his advertising.
2. Your property must compete with properties now on the market. Buyers buy by comparison so homes not comparing favorably with those the buyers have inspected do not sell.
3. Buyers expect more at a higher price and failing to find all they had hoped for at that price become disinterested.
4. Over pricing causes most homes to remain unsold for too long a time. Buyers aware of this long period of exposure are hesitant to buy fearful that there is something wrong with the home. This increased sale resistance makes it very difficult to sell.
5. Sales people tend to lose their enthusiasm for a home after a number of unfavorable reactions from buyers, causing many of them to discontinue showing the property.
6. The Realtor making a practice of taking over priced listings and having his "for sale" signs on the property for months without results will become known as a poor merchandiser.
7. A real estate salesman's most precious commodity is his TIME therefore he cannot afford to spend his time working on over priced listings.
8. Over pricing tends to force buyers who could buy in your area to look elsewhere.
9. The right price is of the utmost importance in the sale of any commodity. Homes priced right usually sell after a normal market exposure.
10. The Realtor will fail to provide the seller with real service if the home is not listed at a realistic price. It is difficult for a Realtor to build his business if he has many disgruntled sellers with unsold properties.
11. Many times over pricing causes a substantial monetary loss because the owner is compelled to own two homes. Some of these costs are taxes, insurance, maintenance, heat, interest on equity, etc. These expenses are then combined with the many inconveniences the seller encounters.
12. Over pricing accomplishes nothing because most homes sell for their fair market value. The advantages of realistic pricing far outweigh any consideration to price a property more than 5-10% above this fair market value.

Yours very truly,

Cowboys, NE Each Corral Two Positions

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

Boys Town and Lincoln Northeast, the leader and runnerup in the 1965 Class A football race, each place a pair of players on the division's all-state football team.

Scoring for the undefeated Cowboys are rugged guard Clarence Jones and versatile Ken Geddes, who grabs an end spot on the Class A club.

Northeast's contributions to the all-state eleven are end Paul Topliff and halfback Doug Campbell.

Geddes and Topliff combine to make the flanker positions the strongest on the honor squad.

Could Play Anywhere

The 6-2½, 198-pound Geddes has handled a variety of assignments in his career at Boys Town, moving wherever coach Skip Palrang needed him. He saw action at both halfback and end on offense.

His primary function in the backfield was blocking, making running room for scatback Bob Carter and Nate McKinney. He carried the ball just often enough to keep the defenses honest, having a 7.6-yard average for the season. He was also a defensive standout at a halfback spot.

Topliff, a rugged 6-2, 192-pound senior, was a defensive ringleader for the Rockets and handled offensive chores with effectiveness.

Delivered Key Plays

A strong pass rusher, he had the knack of coming up with the big defensive play when the Rockets most needed it.

Topping the balloting at the tackle spots were Omaha Westside's Mike Burdic and North Platte's Jim Huebner.

Burdic, at 6-1 and 238 pounds, is the biggest player in the all-senior lineup. His play up front was instrumental in the 7-2 finish by the Warriors.

Huebner's play was one of the bright spots for a slow starting North Platte outfit which closed with seven straight wins. Rated an outstanding blocker, the 6-1, 190-pound senior also played a major role on defense for the Bulldogs.

Joining Jones at a guard spot is Omaha Technical's Kirkland Wise.

Speed Helped Former Back

Wise, the smallest lineman selected, took advantage of his speed and toughness to get the job done against bigger boys. The 165-pound senior, who was shifted to guard from the backfield because of an abundance of swift backs, made a big impression on the Metropolitan Conference coaches.

Jones, who moved to guard this season after handling tackle chores for the Cowboys in 1964, spearheaded the tough Boys Town line. He was an effective blocker and drew heavy praise from opposing coaches for his strong defensive play.

McCook's Ray Harr, a rangy 6-3, 188-pound senior, claims the center spot. Harr made rapid strides as a blocker during the season and led the McCook defense from his linebacker spot.

Go Big Red

Thursday's upcoming football game between Nebraska and Oklahoma will be seen in color television. And it may be so colorful it will put the peacock to shame.

In view of the fact Oklahoma not long ago was considered THE Big Red around the Big Eight, its fans probably still deck themselves out in scarlet.

The Big Red thing pretty much belongs to Nebraska now, although both the Huskers and Sooners were preceded in this mania by Cornell.

Cornell won't have a chance Thursday, however.

Nebraska Governor Frank Morrison has asked that all Husker fans wear red to the games. It is reported that a half dozen or so haven't been.

South Bend, Ind. (AP)— Michigan State's vaunted wall of steel paralyzed the legs of Notre Dame's modern Four Horsemen Saturday and the tense Spartans rallied for 12-3 victory that added polish to their No. 1 college football ranking.

The hard running Irish quartet of Bill Wolski, Nick Eddy, Larry Conjar and Bill Zloch was held to a minus 12 yards.

Falling behind 3-0 on a fumble and a 32-yard field goal by Ken Ivan in the opening minutes, the big, talented Spartans snapped back for two lightning touchdowns in the last half on a three-yard plunge by Clint Jones and a 19-yard pass from quarterback Steve Juday to Dwight Lee.

Jones, a flashy runner, ripped through the Irish defense all day and set up the first score early in the third period with a 20-yard dash after a punt runback by Jess Phillips gave the Spartans the ball on the Notre Dame 39.

The second score came with four minutes, two seconds gone in the final period. It was a quickie that followed a Jim Summers interception on the Irish 19 of a pass by Bill Zloch, the frustrated Irish quarterback.

The weather was ideal for the classic which pitted the No. 1 and No. 4 teams of the land in a head-on clash. The stadium which holds 59,000 had been sold out since August, and tickets on the black market went as high as $50 each.

Michigan State's two conversion attempts failed. Dick Kenney's placement try after the first touchdown went wide and quarterback Jim Raye's two-point pass attempt was long.

It was the 10th straight victory for Michigan State, the undisputed Big Ten champion which last week got a call to the Rose Bow.

It was the second defeat in nine games for Notre Dame, just a shadow of the team which gave the Spartans a 34-7 clobbering a year ago.

It was a triumph mainly for Michigan State's defensive five-man line, made up of a massive 286-pound middle guard, Harold Lucas, 268 pound end, Bubba Smith, plus tackles Don Bierowicz, 231; Buddy Owens 221, and Bob (The Midget) Viney, 214.

After Ivan's field goal in the first four minutes, Michigan State seized the initiative but found itself hopelessly thwarted at every turn by Notre Dame's alert defenders during the first half.

In the first half, the Irish recovered two fumbles, intercepted two passes, with defensive back Tom Longo figuring in two of these key plays.

With Juday passing to Washington and Jones whipping off slashing gains, the Spartans moved the ball freely in the early stages but failed to score.

In the closing moments of the opening half, they marched 72 yards to the Notre Dame nine only to lose the ball when linebacker Dave Martin intercepted a Juday pass in the end zone and ran it out to the three.

Early in the second period the Spartans drove from their own seven to the Notre Dame 30 but stalled when the Irish stiffened and held on downs.

In the first half, Michigan State piled up 174 yards, 124 by rushing, against 31 for Notre Dame and had 12 first downs to two for the Irish.

Juday, the Spartans' candidate for All-America quarterback honors, appeared tense and mishandled the ball several times to blunt the Spartan offense.

It was his lateral to fullback Eddie Cotton which was fumbled and set up the Notre Dame field goal.

Later in the first period he had another pass intercepted by Longo and midway in the second quarter he fumbled a second time, the ball being recovered by Notre Dame's John Horney on the Spartan 18, but a moment later State Co-Capt. Don Japinga plucked off a pass by Zloch to end the threat.

Fayetteville, Ark. (AP)—Quarterback Jon Brittenum and tailback Bobby Burnett led second-ranked Arkansas into the Cotton Bowl Saturday as the Razorbacks scored a, 42-24, comeback triumph over ninth-ranked Texas Tech.

Brittenum, a poised operator who brought Arkansas from two 10-point deficits, engineered long scoring drives of 68, 72, 53, 73 and 69 yards as the Razorbacks completed their second straight perfect season.

The victory snapped Tech's winning streak at seven and extended Arkansas' through 22 — longest in the nation by a major college team.

Burnett, who slashed through the middle for 83 yards in a third quarter Razorback rally, scored three touchdowns on runs of four, one and eight yards. His one-yard plunge put Arkansas ahead the first time, 21-17, early in the third period.

Tech's talented passer, Tom Wilson, and All-American halfback Donny Anderson carried the fight for the inspired Raiders.

Brittenum, who hit on 14 of 20 passes for 245 yards, threw two touchdown strikes in the fourth quarter, a 10-yarder to Richard Trail and a 24-yarder to Tommy Burnett.

Jim Lindsey got the other Arkansas score on a two-yard run, and Ronny South kicked six extra points.

Wilson, a deft passer who caught the brunt of a terrific Razorback rush in the second half, threw a 40-yard touchdown pass to Jeff White.

Anderson scored twice on one-yard runs, and Bob Bearden kicked a 29-yard field

WILL MEET STEUBENVILLE STOMPER

Alabama Confirms It's Huskers' Bowl Foe

They made it official in Tuscaloosa Saturday, Alabama accepting an invitation to play Nebraska New Year's Night in the Orange Bowl in Miami.

"This will be a tremendous challenge," Alabama coach Bear Bryant said, as the Crimson Tide began thinking about it's 19th post-season appearance.

This will be the fifth game in the Orange Bowl for Alabama, which still has Auburn to play next Saturday in Birmingham. Alabama won their first three, trimming Boston College, 37-31, in 1943, Syracuse, 61-6, in 1953 and Oklahoma, 17-0, in 1963. Last year Texas ended the 'Bama Orange Bowl streak with a 21-17 victory.

This will be the seventh straight bowl appearance for Alabama under Bryant and the fourth straight for Nebraska under coach Bob Devaney.

Alabama has a standout in quarterback Steve Sloan who has erased all of Joe Namath's passing records. Nebraska on the other hand has so many it would be difficult to single out one man.

But with bowl time approaching it would be difficult to overlook halfback Harry Wilson, the hard-running Steubenville Stomper who blossomed in the Cotton Bowl a year ago, as one of them.

The Cornhuskers' 196-pound junior halfback is the No. 2 ground-gainer on the squad—and he's had to grind it out the hard way.

"Harry has had to face the unfortunate situation of running into the side where the defense has over-loaded in an attempt to stop us," backfield coach Mike Corgan said.

This is not necessarily indicative that defenses are laying for Light Horse Harry, since opponents frequently over-shift the Husker unbalanced line. But from the right halfback spot, Wilson has been aimed at the over-load all season.

"When you consider the entire season," Corgan said. "You'll probably find that Wilson has made more yards after contact than any other back—he's gotten a lot of yards on his own."

Another Wilson asset is pass-catching. He's caught six for 45 yards to go with his four TDs.

"We haven't thrown a lot to Harry, but he's done a good job receiving," Corgan said.

Corgan and head coach Bob Devaney are in unanimous agreement about one thing required of Nebraska backs—they must block or go home.

"I'm not taking anything away from Ron Kirkland because he's done a fine job of power running for us," Corgan smiled. "But Harry Wilson is one big reason why Ron's carrying a 7.0 average. Not only does Harry block ends, we ask him to block tackles, guards, linebackers and anyone else who pops into the picture, depending on the play.

"Harry has done a fine job in this department, and has been our most consistent blocker," Corgan added.

Building Images

While the few malcontents were complaining about Nebraska's choice of bowls, the bowl situation also brought up another sticky problem the past week.

And the problem involves a couple of huskies—not Walt Barnes and Richard Czap, but Neb and Raska. With all due respect to animal lovers, here's hoping Neb and Raska don't make it to Miami.

The problem arose when the Governor's office asked Orange Bowl Parade officials to save a spot for the two oxen—Neb and Raska—who are supposed to represent what Nebraska stands for in the eyes of the Game Commission.

Orange Bowl officials, showing more sense than some Nebraskans, say they feel it would present a bad image of the state to say nothing of the mess that would have to be cleaned up on Biscayne Boulevard after the parade.

Many Nebraskans are interested in improving the image of the state. They complain when easterners get the idea that Cowboys and Indians still ride the range in Nebraska. Having two oxen representing Nebraska in Florida would certainly do nothing to destroy the image of dirty boots.

When confronted with this, a state official asked, "Well, if we don't use the oxen, what can we use?"

The answers are many. You might start with girls. Nebraska has more than a couple of pretty girls that could add more to any parade than a couple of oxen.

Nebraska doesn't need oxen to help its image. This state has the center of defense for the United States in SAC. It has missile sites.

How about boosting these things instead of the old image of Cowboys and Indians? Maybe some day a Nebraskan can say he's from Nebraska without having people look at his shoes as the first reaction.

Miamians are experts at establishing images. We would think if they say oxen are bad for your image, they are correct.

After all, how many people watching on national television are going to start making plans to visit Nebraska because of a couple of oxen? If they want to see Cowboys and Indians, they can turn on the television.

Short Memories for SI

Sports Illustrated would appear to have a very short memory after attacking Nebraska this week for the Husker's choice of the Orange over the Cotton Bowl.

Wasn't it Sports Illustrated that predicted in its preseason forecast that Nebraska would meet Albama for the national championship if a tournament could be arranged.

So all the Huskers are doing by agreeing to play Alabama is skipping all the preliminary games in Sports Illustrated's projected tournament.

We would imagine that SI is mostly annoyed because after picking Nebraska as national champion, all the Huskers did was win all their games.

Lincoln Race Dates Will Be Same in '66

Nebraska's 1966 thoroughbred racing calendar is going to look almost like a blue print of the 1965 season.

The dates were allocated Saturday by the Nebraska Racing Commission through its secretary Ralph Boomer of Lincoln. Members are Harry Farnham, Omaha; Grove Porter, Nebraska City and George Lillie, Scottsbluff.

In its final form the dates generally favored the largest and smallest tracks in Nebraska.

Omaha's Ak-Sar-Ben and Madison Downs got just what they asked for.

Lincoln Fairgrounds, only track in the state to show a sizeable gain during 1965, was stopped cold in its bid to add an extra week of racing in the Capital City.

General manager Henry Brandt and his board of managers had requested 28 days, but instead ended up with 23—the same as 1965.

Atokad at South Sioux City was cut slightly to give Madison its extension. Madison general manager Morris Moyer told the commission last week it was almost imperative that his track run three Saturdays in 1966 to help recover from a disasterous attendance and handle cut in 1965.

Fonner Park is also confronted with a March opening next year. Its dates are Mar. 29 to May 4. General manager Al Swihart had asked the commission for permission to open at least one week later.

The overall program calls for 161 days of racing in the state. The 1965 total was 162.

The complete schedule:

Fonner Park: Mar 29-May 4, 27 days No racing on Mondays except May 2. No racing Good Friday, April 8.
Ak-Sar-Ben: May 6-July 4, 42 days No racing on Mondays except May 30 (Decoration Day) and July 4.
Lincoln: July 7-Aug. 6, 23 days. No Mondays.
Columbus: Aug 9-Sept 5, 21 days No Mondays except Labor Day, Sept. 5.
Madison: Sept. 6-Sept. 24, 13 days. No Mondays.
Atokad: Sept. 27-Oct. 29, 29 days, including all Mondays.
Mitchell: Sept 3-Sept 10, six days. No racing on Tuesday, Sept. 6

M. H. Van Berg Saddles 3,000th Turf Winner

An already famous Nebraska horseman reached the highest goal in thoroughbred racing Saturday.

M. H. Van Berg of Columbus scored his 3,000th victory.

According to unofficial figures compiled by Bill Murphy, racing administrative assistant at Ak-Sar-Ben, the Nebraska owner actually has 3,001 wins.

Van Berg was racing on two fronts Saturday as he does so often in his illustrious career.

He had three winners at Toledo Raceway and another at Chicago's Sportsman Park.

Van Berg horses Newsroom and Raywick won both ends of the Toledo daily double and then his Smash II won the sixth race. At Chicago his win was scored by Mortal Lock in the fourth.

The Thoroughbred Racing Association of America reportedly plans giving Van Berg a huge trophy noting this occasion.

Princeton, N.J. (AP) — Unbeaten Dartmouth, powered by the passing of Mickey Beard, snapped Princeton's 17-game winning streak and captured the Ivy League football championship Saturday with a 28-14 victory.

The defeat, the first since Dartmouth beat them in the final game of the 1963 season, spoiled the Tigers' chances of posting two consecutive 9-0 seasons. Darthmouth completed its first perfect year since 1962.

Defending champion Princeton scored first, but as soon as Beard got going, the Indians caught up and passed the Tigers easily.

Nebraska, Oklahoma Work Out

Nebraska and Oklahoma had the same ideas Saturday as they geared up for their Thanksgiving Day clash on national television in Lincoln.

Both held brisk workouts Saturday morning, then turned the youngsters loose.

There was one slight difference, while Sooner head man Gomer Jones was on the scene in Norman, Husker mentor Bob Devaney played hookey, taking advantage of the weekend lull to study a training camp site in Miami where Nebraska will meet Alabama in the Orange Bowl. Bowl.

Devaney is hopeful of finding a site closer to the hotel headquarters and also one with lights since the bowl encounter is played at night. Ticket man and assistant athletic director Jim Pittenger accompanied Devaney on the tour.

Nebraska worked only an hour and aide Jim Ross said Frank Solich, who bruised a knee in the Oklahoma State game, was running better during the drill. Linebacker Lynn Senkbeil is still not going very well and defensive halfback Kaye Carstens is in the hospital recovering from the flu.

The Sooners, too, have some problems with Carl McAdams, Tom Pannell and Ben Hart not participating with much gusto in the Oklahoma session.

Life Tenure For Royal?

Austin, Tex. (AP) — If the University of Texas faculty council has its way, football Coach Darrell Royal, whose Longhorns are having their worst season in years, will have a lifetime coaching job.

The council adopted Friday afternoon a resolution urging "life tenure as a coach" for Royal.

Any official step in that direction, however, would have to come from the board of regents.

Murray Resigns At Duke

Durham, N.C. (AP) — Head Coach Bill Murray resigned after 15 years at Duke University Saturday to accept a post as executive chairman of the American Football Coaches Association.

Murray, 58, stood at the door of the locker room and shook hands with each of his players after they had routed arch rival North Carolina 34-7 to complete a 6-4 season.

In the locker room, the players sang "for he's a jolly good fellow." As they came out later some of the players appeared to be weeping.

Murray, who said he had been considering the new post since last summer, reached a decision Saturday morning and informed Athletic Director Eddie Cameron that he was leaving.

Cameron said no decision had been reached on a successor, but Murray said all members of his staff would be given consideration.

Murray compiled a record of 93 victories, 51 losses and nine ties in his 15-year tenure at Duke. He won seven Atlantic Coast Conference championships and one in the old Southern Conference. Before coming to Duke he coached at Delaware for eight years.

In his new post, Murray will succeed Tuss McLaughry, former Dartmouth coach.

Murray's 1965 team started the season with four straight victories and was regarded as one of his better teams.

Miami, Fla. (AP) — The Miami Hurricanes, shoved all over the field in the first half, came back with a crushing ground attack Saturday night to upset Florida 16-13 and inflict the season's third defeat on the bowl-bound Gators.

A homecoming crowd of 67,762, the second largest in Miami history, saw the Hurricanes exact sweet revenge from a Florida team that knocked them out of an Orange Bowl bid with an upset victory in 1959.

Florida, which has been offered a bid to the Sugar Bowl game against Missouri, has a 6-3 record and one more game to play with Florida State.

Miami's sophomore quarterback, Bill Miller, ran eight yards for a third period touchdown, and Don Curtwright kicked a 24-yard field goal for the winning margin in the final period.

Florida totally dominated the first half, outgaining the Hurricanes 203 yards to 65, but Miami held twice inside its 10-yard line and the Gators took only a 13-6 lead into halftime.

I May Be Wrong

By Curt Mosher
Sunday Sports Columnist

The annual squabble over the professional draft, seemingly ironed out a fraction by the American Football League's pushing the date back to Nov. 27 when the National League draft is held, is a little less of a mystery after reading Harry Wismer's book "The Public Calls It Sport."

There is no way to read it without immediately labeling the former broadcasting celebrity and owner of the New York Titans something of an egomaniac. And a couple of AFL people have told me not to take it all too seriously.

But no matter what the percentage of fact is in the book, if it be only the most minute, the AFL picture takes on a plot which could only be captured by the Laurel and Hardy at their best.

Wismer, who is supposed to have been a co-founder of the league along with Dallas millionaire Lamar Hunt, raps the league from the top to bottom and he starts at the top.

Lack of Leadership

Wismer says the league lacks leadership and blames this on Joe Foss, who, according to Wismer, shouldn't have been named commissioner to begin with.

"Foss didn't have the qualities necessary to lead us there and, to my way of thinking, he still doesn't," Wismer says.

The first major defeat of the new league, Wismer says, was the loss of the Minnesota territory to the rival National League.

"Looking back," Wismer says, "the Minneapolis group wanted an NFL franchise and if they couldn't get one, then the AFL would do. They played us against the NFL and won. They were the tool George Halas (Chicago Bear owner) and the NFL used to cripple us."

This, Wismer says, took the AFL out of "football's heartland" (the midwest), a place that he says is the backbone of success in the sport.

And All That Money

Wismer says, too, that with all the money the owners have in the AFL they aren't exactly the last of the big spenders. He cites one instance when a hurry-up meeting was needed and he suggested that Hunt rent a car and make the appointment. The rich young Texan said it would be cheaper to go by bus.

Wismer says he then rented a limousine and sent the protesting Hunt on his way.

And in the same vein he says he went into the league with the understanding that he would be something of a front man and that when he needed some new capital to keep things on the move he would receive help from his other owners. He claims he was turned down at the end and that's why he's out of it now.

And, of course, that's when Sonny Weblin came into the league. Weblin, needless to say, is not one of Wismer's big heroes.

He leaps on Weblin for not wanting upcoming Jet players to take part in the All-Star game among other things.

The Shaky Picture

That, then, is something of the reason for the ruffled feathers among the AFL, NFL and NCAA. Everyone agrees that the solution in all matters, particularly premature signings, is for the pros to reach agreement with the NCAA and to work hand-in-hand.

But it is obvious before anything like that can happen it is imperative that the AFL and NFL reach agreement first.

And, if Wismer's book is any indication, it is imperative that the AFL reach agreement within its own ranks before that can happen.

It would appear that it will be some time before all concerned will be able to sit down and realistically discuss all the problems.

And until that time comes the NCAA is almost certain to be a loser. It is difficult to see how the NCAA can muster up any kind of ammunition sufficient to threaten the pros.

The pros have money and that's what counts.

Lyle Long Smokes San Felice Now.

Long

"For gosh sakes. You mean this is only a five-cent cigar? How did you make it so mild?" questioned Lyle Long of Lincoln after smoking his first San Felice. But it's the same story everywhere. The incredible mildness of the new San Felice is winning new friends wherever it's smoked. And it's only a nickel.

Stillwater, Okla. (UPI) — Oklahoma State pounded winless Kansas State Saturday, 31-7, behind the passing of Glenn Baxter and the thunderous runs of Walt Garrison.

Baxter passed for two touchdowns, one of them a 67-yarder to Danny Lawson, and scored a third himself on a two-yard keeper. Garrison, a power-running fullback with the moves of a halfback, scored on a 12-yard burst up the middle and shredded the Kansas State line for 173 yards.

Kansas State's lone touchdown came on a 76-yard punt runback by sophomore John Vrooman late in the third quarter.

It was the second victory in nine games for the Cowboys, who spent most of this season losing to bowl-bound teams. The loss doomed Kansas State to the Big Eight Conference cellar and wound up the Wildcats' season at 0-10.

Oklahoma State has one game left, its traditional battle with Oklahoma.

Oklahoma State, its ground game working well all afternoon against the porous Kansas State defenses, rushed for 321 yards and got an additional 120 yards in the air on six completions by Baxter. Kansas State got only 34 yards passing and 108 yards on the ground.

Oklahoma State built up a 10-0 halftime lead on Baxter's two-yard ram over right tackle with 19 seconds left in the first quarter and Charles Durkee's 35-yard field goal midway in the second period.

Kansas State failed in a gallant bid to get on the scoreboard in the first half, aided by three penalty calls against Oklahoma State, but Jay Lavender intercepted a Wildcat pass on the three-yard line to blunt the drive.

Oklahoma State scored twice in the third quarter on two Baxter touchdown heaves. Baxter hooked up with Lawson on the 67-yard "bomb" after Lawson had set up the play with a 22-yard punt return. Five minutes later Baxter took the Cowboys 46 yards in six plays, passing to Lynn Chadwick for the final seven yards.

After Vrooman's brilliant 76-yard touchdown dash through the entire Oklahoma State team, Kansas State never came close to scoring again.

Garrison ended the scoring midway in the fourth quarter with his 12-yard run, capping the best day of the season for the defending Big Eight Conference rushing champion. The 199-pound senior sat out the last six minutes.

Big 8

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Missouri's Sugar Bowl-bound Tigers needed all the talents of Johnny Roland, Gary Lane and Charlie Brown to subdue fired-up Kansas, 44-20, Saturday in the 74th renewal of their bitter football rivalry.

The eighth-ranked Tigers trailed twice in the first half as Kansas scored with the help of a blocked punt and deflected forward pass. Missouri got the lead for the first time 20-13 on Lane's 19-yard run, seconds before the halftime gun.

Brown's 86-yard bolt up the middle in the third period moved Missouri out of reach. The Tigers, second to unbeaten Nebraska in the Big Eight, will take a 7-2-1 record to New Orleans. Kansas finished 2-8, its worst season in 11 years.

The 207-pound Roland, a tremendous two-way performer, and prime All-American candidate, intercepted a pass and recovered a fumble on defense, and scored three touchdowns on the attack. He set up one touchdown with a 35-yard punt return.

Lane hit 8 of 16 passes for 155 yards, including a 39-yard touchdown shot to Monroe Phelps 16 seconds before the final gun. Lane had 215 yards total offense and became the eighth player in Big Eight history to reach 3,000 yards in career total offense. He had 3,203.

Brown, the Big Eight rushing leader, had 158 yards in 18 tries.

Kansas linebacker Mike Swetman blocked a punt to set up Dan Miller's one-yard plunge for an early 7-0 lead.

The Jayhawks went ahead again 13-7 on a 51-yard pass from Wally Hinshaw which Roland deflected into the arms of Halley Kampschroeder. Bobby Skahan ran and passed Kansas 84 yards to its last TD, making it 33-20 but Missouri's Bill Bates kicked a 33-yard field goal before Lane threw his scoring pass to Phelps.

Miller had his biggest day for Kansas with 112 yards on 24 carries. Skahan had 91 yards total offense and hit 7 of 15 passes for 70 yards.

Little Billy Fenton started at quarterback and moved Kansas 72 yards to its first TD. The scoring play was a halfback pass, Fenton lateralling to Hinshaw, who threw to Kampschroeder.

With Kansas ahead 13-7, coach Jack Mitchell inserted Skahan and he moved the club to the Missouri 48 where Mike Johnson fumbled and Roland recovered. Kansas stopped the Tigers up the middle but Lane hit with three passes to Phelps, Roland and Earl Denny, setting up Roland's 3-yard TD plunge. Bates missed the conversion and it was 13-13.

Buffs End 5-3

Rogers' FGs, Snags Pep Buffs Past AF

Air Force Academy, Colo. (AP) — Senior Frank Rogers, once a quarterback converted to a split end, grabbed a 57-yard touchdown pass and booted two long field goals to help Colorado steam by Air Force, 19-6 in their season-ending football game Saturday.

With Colorado nursing a 9-6 lead early in the third quarter, Rogers sneaked behind the Air Force secondary, snared a nifty pass from Bernie McCall on the Falcon's 30 and outdistanced defenders to put the Buffaloes safely ahead.

The triumph gave Colorado a 5-3 margin in the heated state rivalry.

Colorado bolted to a 9-0 lead in the first quarter but pitching from Stein brought the Falcons back in the ball game late in the second quarter with a 57-yard touchdown march.

Stein passed and ran the entire distance on the drive. He completed six passes, three to Bill Manning covering 35 yards and three to Mike Mueller for 19 yards, to move the Falcons down to the one. Stein scored on a sneak after the Buffaloes stopped fullback John Ondrejko on the first plunge.

Stein established an Air Force career total offensive yardage of 1,765 breaking by 18 the 1963 mark of quarterback Terry Isaacson.

Virdon Joins New York Mets As Non-Player

New York (AP)—Bill Virdon, who announced his retirement as an active player last Tuesday, has joined the New York Mets' organization in a non-playing capacity.

The Mets said Saturday Virdon has reported to their winter instructional league team in Florida and will work with Eddie Stanky until his assignment in the organization is determined.

Virdon, who has expressed a desire to become a manager someday, retired after 11 years as a center fielder with St. Louis and Pittsburgh.

Albuquerque, N.M. (UPI)—Sophomore tackle Paul Smith led the fired up New Mexico Lobos to a 10-9 upset Homecoming win over Iowa State Saturday, ruining the Cyclones chances for a post-season bowl bid.

The 228-pound Smith kept quarterback Tim Van Galder off balance all day with his bruising line play. Van Galder arrived in Albuquerque 12 hours before game time after attending his father's funeral in California Friday.

Iowa State went to work on the Lobo pass defense after receiving the opening kickoff at the 35.

The Cyclones' used only five plays to move to the Lobo 12. The drive was capped by a 38-yard pass from Van Galder to Eppie Barney.

When the drive bogged down, Steve Balkovec kicked a field goal from the Lobo 13 to give the Cyclones a short-lived 3-0 lead.

Both teams traded punts until midway in the second quarter when the Lobo defense finally got to Van Galder.

Iowa City, Iowa (AP)—North Carolina State turned four of seven pass interceptions into touchdowns and handed fired Iowa head coach Jerry Burns his ninth defeat of the season, 28-20, Saturday.

Quarterback Gary Snook, who holds most of Iowa's passing records and who was playing his last college game, was the victim of all the Wolfpack's thefts.

Burns, 38, who had an unsuccessful five-year coaching reign here after being elevated from assistant coach to the top job was fired earlier this week. The Hawkeyes won only one of 10 games this season.

After a 14-14 halftime tie, North Carolina State's Gus Andrews scored the first touchdown of his career when he intercepted a Snook pass on the Iowa 18, then ran untouched into the end zone.

That proved to be the winning margin. Iowa came back with a touchdown midway in the fourth-quarter when, after driving to the Wolfpack three, Snook passed to Cliff Wilder who made a diving catch in the end zone.

But two Iowa chances for two-point conversion and a possible 22-21 lead failed. Snook missed on his first pass, but the Hawks got another chance when State was offside. The second pass was intercepted by Art McMahon.

Minutes later McMahon picked off another Snook pass on the Iowa 27 and eluded a horde of tacklers for the clinching touchdown.

The victory was the fifth straight for North Carolina State, which had lost four of its first five games.

Defensive end Dave Long gave Iowa an early 7-0 lead when he blocked a punt on the 20 and dashed in for the score.

But Tony Golmont started State goalward for the first time in the second quarter by intercepting a Snook pass and returning it 27 yards to the Iowa 28. Six plays later fullback Shelby Mansfield smashed over from the three to tie it at 7-7.

Ann Arbor, Mich. (AP) — Bob Funk's 27-yard field goal with 1:15 remaining — after Ohio State had gambled on fourth down deep in its own territory—gave the Buckeyes a 9-7 Big Ten football victory over Michigan Saturday.

Ohio State, held scoreless after Don Unverferth passed five yards to Bill Anders for a touchdown midway in the first quarter, marched from its own nine to the Michigan 11-yard line to set up the winning kick.

Michigan moved to the Ohio State 34 with 10 seconds remaining, but Paul D'Eramo's 50-yard field goal try was short.

Michigan scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter when Dave Fisher carried two yards after Mike Bass intercepted a Unverferth pass and returned the ball to the OSU 15.

Ohio State, which finished the season with a 7-2 mark and was 6-1 in the conference, started its winning scoring drive on the nine when Bo Rein was stopped after catching a Michigan punt.

Unverferth passed to Rein for a five-yard pickup on second down, and Willard Sander added three more on a run up the middle.

On fourth down, Unverferth again called on his big fullback and Sander gained another two yards to give the Buckeyes the first down on their own 19.

Sander later picked up 13 yards to put the ball on the Michigan 16, but three more rushes by him gained but five yards and Funk stepped back to boot his eighth field goal of the year.

Michigan, 4-6 for the year, twice moved inside the OSU 10-yard stripe but failed to score.

Minneapolis (UPI)—Sophomore halfback Dick Peterson and senior quarterback John Hankinson combined talent Saturday to lead Minnesota to a 42-7 football victory over Wisconsin.

Peterson scored a pair of touchdowns and set up a third while gaining 98 yards rushing.

Hankinson, who holds most of Minnesota's passing records, ran for one score, threw for another and tossed a 37-yard pass to Kent Kramer in the final quarter which enabled the Gophers to score on the next play.

Wisconsin had several opportunities to stay in the contest but could take advantage of only one.

The Badgers scored in the second quarter when Chuck. Burt's. four-yard pass was batted by Minnestoa's Tim Wheeler in the end zone and fell into the arms of Wisconson's Bill Fritz.

The Badgers were within the Minnesota 30-yard line several times in the second half, including a penetration to the two-yard line, but couldn't come up with the big play.

Minnesota exploded for 22 points in the final period to put its season finale in the bag.

The Gophers, playing before 50,847 fans in Memorial Stadium, completely dominated the play. They took advantage of two pass interceptions and Wisconsin's inability to move the ball.

Peterson and John Williams scored on one-yard plunges and with less than two minutes to go Ray Whitlow caught a six-yard touchdown pass from substitute quarterback Glen Wirtanen.

The Gophers vaulted to a 14-0 first period led on touchdowns by Hankinson and Aaron Brown.

The Gophers moved five yards the first time they got the ball with Hankinson sweeping in from the four. Peterson gained 35 of the Gophers yards in eight carries.

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Purdue hung on desperately after rolling up a 20-point lead in the first period and beat Indiana, 26-21, Saturday on the passing of Bob Griese and the hard running of John Kusniewski and Gordon Teter.

The Boilermakers needed everything they could muster to take the Old Oaken Bucket in their season-ending football game.

Indiana's inspired underdogs kept Purdue on its heels with a touchdown bomb combination of Frank Stavroff to Bill Malinchak and the end runs of sophomore Terry Cole.

Stavroff completed 13 of 23 passes for 1963 yards, half that yardage coming on two scoring passes to Malinchak.

Griese, staying mostly with the short bullet pass, completed 14 of 22 for 169 yards.

Griese had to go without his favorite receiver, Bob Hadrick, who was unable to play because of a knee injury.

In a surprise move, fullback Randy Minniear, just back from the injured ranks, replaced Hadrick at end and caught three passes for 27 yards.

Purdue had a big edge on the ground, rolling up 255 yards to Indiana's 110. Kusniewski had 105 yards in 24 carries and Teter 97 in 23 tries. Cole got 58 yards in 14 runs.

Evanston, Ill. (AP) — With Fred Custardo hurling two touchdown passes and record making Jim Grabowski ripping 187 yards in 33 carries, Illinois defeated Northwestern 20-6 Saturday to end the Big Ten football season.

Grabowski, 220-pound senior fullback, added two major conference rushing marks to his list by boosting his three-year career total to 2,106 yards and his season aggregate to 996.

Illinois closed out with a 4-3 Big Ten standing to finish in the first division while the Wildcats ended with 3-4. Illinois also broke the series deadlock and now leads the rivalry 28-27.

Illinois pushed into a 7-6 lead in the first quarter. Custardo hit rookie end John Wright for 15 yards and then speared Cyril Pinder for a 36-yard touchdown play. Custardo booted the first of his two points.

On the first play of the ensuing kickoff, Northwestern sophomore Rick Venturi threw his first pass of the season. He connected with Ron Rector for 25 yards and Rector broke loose to run 55 more for a touchdown. The 80-yard play was a Northwestern all-time aerial record.

Deas Dickie's try for the extra point was wide.

Illinois went ahead 14-6 in the opening minutes of the second quarter, capping a 55-yard thrust with Custardo's 7-yard pitch on a tackle eligible play to Ed Russell. Custardo's 15-yard toll to Craig Timko and Grabowski's 18-18-yard run accelerated the drive.

Lexington, Ky. (AP) — Tennessee turned two second-half pass thefts into touchdowns in a four-minute outburst that turned back Kentucky, 19-3, Saturday and sent the Volunteers into the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Bluebonnett officials invited Tennessee to play in the post-season football game at Houston, Tex., Dec. 18, and the Volunteers quickly accepted.

Sophomore quarterback Dewey Warren, making his first start, scored the go-ahead touchdowns for Tennessee which broke a 3-3 defensive duel between the Southeastern Conference rivals meeting for the 61st time.

Both scores came after interceptions of passes thrown deep in Kentucky territory by Wildcat sophomore quarterback Terry Beadles, defensive specialist playing offense for the first time in place of passing whiz Rick Norton, out with a knee injury.

Doug Archibald picked off one pass and returned it 18 yards to the Kentucky two, where Warren plunged over with 3:20 left in the third quarter. Warren scored again on the first play of the fourth period after Tennessee linebacker Frank Emanuel grabbed Beadles' pass and ran it nine yards to the Kentucky 21.

Tennessee widened the lead to 19-3 later in the fourth quarter when Beadles was chased 27 yards back into the Kentucky end zone and tackled by Derrick Weatherford for a safety.

Los Angeles (UPI) — Sophomore quarterback Gary Beban threw two touchdown passes in the final four minutes of play Saturday to bring UCLA from behind for a 20-16 upset victory over University of Southern California and virtually clinch the West's Rose Bowl bid for the Bruins.

With USC leading, 16-6, Beban finally found the range. He hit wingback Dick Witcher with a 34-yard scoring pass and two minutes later unloaded a 52-yard bomb to Kurt Altenberg for the go-ahead touchdown.

While a crowd of 94,058 looked on in amazement the Bruins came through with their explosive scoring efforts after it appeared USC had the game sewed up.

Trojan halfback Mike Garrett gained more than 210 yards rushing on 40 carries to become the all-time Pacific Eight Conference leader for one season and USC's powerful defensive team held the Bruins until Beban came through with the type of performance that has made him the outstanding sophomore quarterback in the country.

The victory left UCLA with a 7-1-1 season record.

UCLA scored first in the opening period as halfback Mel Farr broke loose for 49 yards on a counter play. But Bruin placekicker Kurt Zimmerman had the conversion blocked, by Phil Lee, his first miss in 25 attempts this season.

Garrett and company then started a 76-yard drive that ended when the famed halfback fumbled on the Bruin one.

Although Garrett was the individual rushing standout, Troy Winslow passed for both USC touchdowns.

goal. Bearden added Tech's extra points.

The victory was Arkansas' ninth over Tech without a loss and also Arkansas' eighth consecutive homecoming triumph under Coach Frank Broyles.

A capacity crowd of 40,000 and a regional television audience saw Arkansas' torrid second half comeback give the Razorbacks a 10-0 record for this season. Tech's record is 8-2.

Bobby Burnett rushed for more than 100 yards—133—for the fifth straight game, ending the season with 948. His three touchdowns established school records of 16 touchdowns and 96 points in a season.

Wilson and Anderson hooked up on two long passes late in the game, one of 43 yards and a 44-yarder, after Arkansas held a commanding lead. The second catch set up Anderson's second touchdown.

Wilson hit on 26 of 44 passes for 320 yards.

Tilman Gets One

Bobcats Roaming Around

By RICK AKIN

A couple of weeks ago Walter Munn and Don Tilman, both of Lincoln, were trouncing around the hills near Comstock, trying to run down some deer. They found few but ran into something more interesting.

"We were out deer hunting," Tilman says. "I was going down a draw . . . actually it was more like a gulley. That terrain is pretty rugged. I saw something running up the bank."

He used the sights of a friend's gun and spotted a bobcat hustling up the side of a hill about 175 yards away.

"I knew it was a predatory animal," Tilman says, "so I thought it would be all right to shoot it.

"I hate to confess it, but I missed on the first shot," he relates. "But for some reason it turned around and just looked at me."

So he plugged it, but shattered the animal making it good for just about nothing. Tilman says a mounted head would have made a nice trophy.

"That was the first one I've seen," Tilman says. "I didn't even know they were there." But they are around and not just Comstock.

Krumel says a few have been spotted around the ranches in the Sargent area but not in significant numbers.

Don Tilman and bobcat.

Roy Owens, game warden in the Crete area, says a few have been spotted down his way and a goodly number have been seen in the Crawford area.

"The fur on a bobcat is very fine," Tilman says. "I can see any people make throw rugs out of them. But I shot mine so close it wasn't much good."

As for the deer hunting, Tilman wasn't too boastful despite downing a 110-pound (hog-dressed) doe.

"The deer just seemed to be lying down," he says. "They just weren't out running around and we never saw many."

Tilman and Krumel met fishing in western Nebraska, and got to talking and have been hunting on the Krumel spread and visiting one another ever since.

Jim Tische of Lincoln once plugged two bobcats with a single shot. It went through one animal and into the back of another standing alongside.

Another surprise catch in Nebraska hunting lands occurred last week when Kenneth Broers of Auburn shot what he thought was a deer.

Not so. Broers got a bull elk, estimated at 800 pounds—a little large for a deer.

Since elk is a protected animal in Nebraska, it was turned over to an institution and Broers' deer permit was returned to him.

Game officials figure the elk strayed from a game farm since they aren't found in the wild in the state.

Funniest thing happened the other day while I was out hunting . . .

Baton Rouge, La. (UPI) — Louisiana State gave Tulane a humiliating 62-0 farewell to Southeastern Conference football Saturday night — then the Tigers accepted a bid to play Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

LSU, aiming not only for the post season invitation but also to return to the Top Ten had 14 points before the game was four minutes old.

LSU's defense was just as hot as its offense. The Bengals rolled up 308 yards before intermission and held the sputtering Greenies to 80. Tulane didn't get into LSU territory until the fourth quarter.

Billy Masters, a 6-foot-5, 225-pound junior back, was the star for the Tigers, scoring three touchdowns. They came on runs of 25 and 20 yards and a 45-yard aerial from Pat Screen.

With the acceptance of the Cotton Bowl Invitation, Charlie McClendon became the first LSU coach ever to take the Tigers to four consecutive post season games. He is also the only coach in the SEC who has gotten a bowl bid each year he has been head coach.

Operation Outdoors

by Pete Czura

Well, the "Tiger on the Hill" has done it again.

Mel Steen, Nebraska Game Commission director, has been signally honored by being awarded the "Conservationist of the Year" Eagle trophy, a governor's award which was donated by the National Wildlife Federation and Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Among the many honors heaped on this controversial man, this one may ultimately lead to further national recognition.

With Governor Frank Morrison's office bulging with conservation dignataries last Monday, Morrison lauded Steen's work, as he presented this first trophy to be awarded to any Nebraskan.

Morrison said, "Unless you can create, you have nothing to conserve, and Steen has certainly been a moving force in Nebraska since he has been here."

National Honors?

In January, 1966, the winners of similar awards in 49 other states will meet in Washington, at a special ceremony hosted by President Lyndon B. Johnson, where one person will be chosen to receive the President's award, the Whooping Crane trophy.

It is not too far fetched to imagine that Steen hasn't a chance to bring further fame to his adopted state by winning this top honor.

Representing the donors of the Governor's award at the Nebraska ceremony were Richard L. Stewart of Sears-Roebuck, and H. R. "Bud" Morgan, midwest field representative of National Wildlife Federation.

The nominating committee to pick Nebraska's representative for the President's award were: Bill Harder, Otto Liebers, and Joe Young, all of Lincoln.

All this writer can add to this new acclaim to Steen, is "Good going, Mel". Win or lose in Washington, you have done more to arouse the people in Nebraska to the awareness of what they have here, than any other person.

Lincoln Sailor Loses Ship

Captain Jack R. Donley of Lincoln is without ship since Sept. 22.

His sailing vessel the "Andalucia" was rammed and sunk by the "Barracuda" (400 tons) of Italian registry.

On the morning of the 22nd the "Andalucia" was in Atlantic waters, off the coast of Morocco, when without any warning the Italian ship veered course and before the Donley sailing vessel could alter course, it was rammed amidships.

Donley (and the Italians) can't offer any explanation as to why this accident occurred as visibility was over 1½ miles.

At the risk of losing his life, Donley went below as his ship was sinking to save his log book and papers.

Discourging News

Mrs. Fran O'Brien of Denton took issue with last week's column and has some comments to make about free hunting.

She says: "You finally admitted 'free hunting' has gone the way of the passenger pigeon . . . (can't recall saying that) . . .

"The small token payment offered by the Agriculture Department, in exchange for turning over diverted acres to Mr. Steen to manage will be met by plenty of opposition from landowners . . .

"All hunters are discouraged in this area but we especially discourage out-of-state hunters . . .

"The Game Commission has too long exploited the private property owners, and we don't want any hunters at any price . . .

"We have the upper hand ONLY in the hunting department and we mean to keep it that way . . .

"The Game Commission sells hunting licenses—let 'em furnish a place to hunt. Or, let the landowners sell licenses to hunt on his own place. This might be met with some cooperation. Free hunting is out!"

Well, now you have the word sportsmen. Any of you readers have any further comments on this touchy subject?

Big Mat Rodeo Set Wednesday

Some enemies will have to become friends later in the evening on the big Wednesday rassling card at Pershing Auditorium.

Four foes in the preliminary bouts will later team in the big eight-man rodeo battle royal main event.

For this show The Mad Russian has come up with his real name which is Sam Pulaski, but another anonymous character makes his debut with the monicker of "Mr. Wrestling."

Stan and the Mr. will join with Reggie Parks and Mad Dog Vachone in the merry-go-round against Billy Red Cloud, Haru Sasaki, Jack Pesek and Mitsu Arakawa.

In early bouts it's Parks v. Pulaski (The Mad Russian); Red Cloud v. Vachone; Mr. Wrestling v. Sasaki and Pesek v. Arakawa.

Spirit Bonfire Ablaze Monday

A spirit bonfire for the Nebraska-Oklahoma game will be conducted for the third straight year by Sigma Alpha Mu fraternity.

The bonfire will be started at 9 p.m. Monday night in front of the fraternity house at a rally to be attended by coach Bob Devaney and co-captains Frank Solich and Mike Kennedy. The blaze will be kept going up through game time Thursday.

1966 Shrine Bowl Coaches

James, Miller Selected

Bill James of Bellevue and Dell Miller of Columbus have been selected as head coaches for the 1966 Nebraska Shrine Bowl football game.

Robert C. Russell, president of Shrine Bowl of Nebraska, Inc., has also announced the coaches who will assist James and Miller.

James, who piloted Bellevue to a runnerup finish behind unbeaten Boys Town in the Metropolitan Conference, will coach the South team of high school all-stars.

Assisting him will be Ted Weldon of Beatrice, Ray Huggett of Central City and Terry Williams of Cozad.

Miller, the veteran Columbus coach, will coach the North team. He coached the Big Ten championship team in 1964, when his Discoverers were 10-0.

Working with Miller in the North camp will be Lou Wewel of Fremont Bergan, Allen Bellinger of Ord and Merlin Van Newkirk of Gering.

Miller was an assistant coach for the North in 1961, serving under Bill Stephenson.

James' previous Shrine Bowl experience was in 1962, when he was an assistant on the staff of Cliff Dale.

The two coaching staffs will begin the process of selecting their 33-player squads shortly.

High school seniors eligible for the North team are those who played for schools north of Highway 30-30A. The South squad is comprised of players from south of the dividing highway. Schools along the highway are divided equally between the two teams.

The 1966 Shrine Bowl game will be the eighth annual contest matching the state's top high school players.

Stanford Rallies For Win

Stanford, Calif. (AP) - Shocked to life by a California touchdown, the Stanford Indians whipped back on a 70-yard scoring march in the fourth quarter Saturday and beat the Bears 9-7 on a 12-yard smash by senior halfback Ray Handley.

The triumph made it five straight big game victories for Stanford, the first such string for the Indians since their 68-game series began in 1892.

Taking the kickoff after Tom Relles ran four yards to score for California early in the final period, the Indians surged back in 11 plays. Quarterback Dave Lewis hit two passes to gain 28 and Handley ran three times for a total of 29, the finale a smash over right tackle.

Salt Lake City, Utah (AP)—Utah State mixed the passing of Ron Edwards and the power running of Roy Shivers and Craig Murray and rode to a 14-7 victory over Utah Saturday in their football traditional.

The game erupted into a fist-swinging melee in the final minute with both teams swarming onto the field and taking part in a dozen separate fist fights. It took coaching staffs and referees two minutes to calm tempers and restore order.

Murray bumped over for both Aggie touchdowns, but it was Edwards' passes that brought Utah State to scoring country. Throws to Dave Clark set up Murray's first plunge, and a series of tosses to Clark and Shivers gave him the second chance.

Backfield Boasts Great TD Punch

Joining Campbell in the backfield are Columbus workhorse Bill Bomberger; Omaha Benson's triple-threater, Randy Reeves and Kim Wheeler, the powerful fullback from Lincoln Pius X.

Campbell, the key to the Northeast attack, bounced back from an early season shoulder injury to lead the Rockets to an 8-1 season. The injury kept him out of the lineup in the Rockets' only setback, a 12-6 defeat at the hands of North Platte. When injuries riddled the Northeast backfield late in the season he stepped up his pace and accounted for over half of the rushing yardage in the stretch run.

Reeves, a two-time state pole vault champion, ranks as one of Benson's top football products. The 6-2 187-pound senior was a strong runner, handled quarterbacking chores on occasion and was a gifted receiver.

Bomberger, a powerful runner with breakaway ability, was a fine passer and an exceptional kicker. The 187-pound senior was also labeled an excellent defensive player. Bill was one of the few veterans returning from 1964's unbeaten Columbus team and his play was the big factor in helping the rebuilding Discoverers post a 5-2-2 record.

Rounding out the backfield is Wheeler, who turned in solid performances week after week for Pius X. The big fullback averaged 5.5 yards a carry, but his biggest contribution to the Pius X attack was strong blocking which helped his backfield mates ramble for big gains.

The 190-pound senior was dependable in the short-yardage situations and had speed to go the distance once past the line of scrimmage. Kim was also a rugged defender, holding down an end spot for the Thunderbolts.

As usual, the balloting by coaches produced close competition at all positions. Among those drawing heavy support were ends Tom McGinness of Bellevue and Mike Minor of Kearney, guard Larry Lyons of Lincoln High and backfield standouts Bill Cotton of McCook, Dana Stephensor of Pisu X, Bob Carter of Boys Town, Jim Riggins of Lincoln High and Bob Griego of Omaha Technical.

It was a big year for seniors as few underclassmen drew much support in the voting.

Handicapped? Not These Boys

It is refreshing for this writer to note the success that a pair of Nebraska high school football players have had in overcoming handicaps which might have kept those with less determination from even playing the game.

The two are York's Bucky Dougherty, who earned all-state honors in Class B, and Cairo's Victor Nelson, who ranked high in the balloting for the eight-man all-state team.

Dougherty, a tackle, became a standout despite a severe loss of hearing and Nelson, an end, was an excellent pass receiver even though having minimal use of his right arm.

Dougherty's play for the unbeaten, top-ranked York team was no real surprise for coach Hank Amend because the 180-pound senior had lettered as a sophomore and had played regularly as a junior on defense.

"He was a good enough blocker to play offense last year, but we weren't sure of his ability to pick up signals and get the starting count," says Amend. "But this year we just figured we had to go with him on offense, too."

"He has the quickest reactions of any player I've coached. This helped him make up for inability to pick up the quarterback's count. He would fire out when the guard moved and most of the time he'd beat him across the line," Amend notes.

Enthusiasm, Desire Pay Off

Dougherty's success is attributed to an abundance of enthusiasm and desire. The same ingredients helped Nelson, who has a deformed arm, become a standout.

"I don't know if Vic would be any better if he had two good arms," says Cairo coach Lester Piper. "He's worked twice as hard to achieve his success."

Amazingly, Nelson's strong point was pass receiving. His catches were good for 750 yards and 16 touchdowns and the 6-3, 170-pound senior also threw eight touchdown passes on end around plays.

Piper, in his first year at Cairo, is happy to have Nelson on his team this year. He coached at Roseland last year and watched Nelson and his mates roll to a 40-19 win. "I was amazed by the things he accomplished," says Piper, who has learned to expect the extraordinary feats from Nelson.

Vic is also a fine basketball player and especially valuable as a rebounder.

Shuffle in Louplatte

Notes from here and there on the prep front:

Grand Island Central Catholic is severing ties with the Louplatte Conference. Central Catholic has a male enrollment of 183, 40 more than St. Paul, the next biggest school in the conference and more than twice as many as Shelton and Wood River, the two smallest schools in the eight-team conference.

The Crusaders will probably look westward to the Southwest Conference to strengthen their football schedule . . .

University High's Dennis Beckmann was inadvertently omitted from the list of all-city cross country selections. He finished fourth in the Class C state meet and had the swiftest time of any city prep during the 1965 campaign.

Seattle, Wash. (AP) — Washington's Huskies bombed Washington State in the air and on the ground Saturday for a 27-9 Pacific Athletic Conference football victory.

The visiting Cougars contributed to their own downfall with fumbles and straying passes in absorbing their third defeat of an otherwise successful seven-victory season.

The triumph evened the record at 5-5 for Washington and kept the Huskies from posting their first losing season since 1958.

A 40-yard field goal was sideswiped by soccer player Ted Gerella to give the Cougars a 3-0 first quarter lead, but Washington struck for three second quarter touchdowns to put the game on ice.

The Cougars, staging one of their patended last-ditch drives, went 73 yards in nine plays to score with 29 seconds left in the half.

Leading 20-9, Washington was held at bay through the third quarter but broke Ron Medved into the clear on a 38-yard touchdown run for the final tally.

Tod Hullin hit Omar Parker with a 28-yard pass for Washington's first touchdown, Dean Halverson plunged four yards for the second and Hullin hit Dave Williams with a 54-yarder for the third Husky tally.

Des Moines (UPI)—Fullback Ray Brown rolled for 213 yards Saturday to lead Drake University to a 36-30 win over Central Intercollegiate Conference champions Omaha.

The win was the sixth this year for the Bulldogs against four losses. Omaha suffered its second loss of the season after wrapping up its third CIC championship with eight wins.

The defeat placed in jeopardy the Indians' chances of getting into the National Small College football playoffs. A triumph would have virtually assured them of a spot in the NAIA championship race.

Brown, who was only 33 yards short of setting a new all time individual rushing record at Drake, brought the Bulldogs their first three touchdowns and a two-point run on a conversion.

In the third quarter, he lumbered 70 yards down the sideline, outstepping Omaha tacklers and picking up blockers along the route.

In the first period, he bulldozed into the Omaha defense from the one yard line having failed in two earlier attempts to hit the goal line from the three.

Omaha's offense was launched off the throwing arm of Marlin (The Magician) Briscoe who connected on 13 of 29 passes for 194 yards and ran for another 72.

Briscoe threw three touchdown passes, one to left end Bill Haas in the first quarter to culminate a 64 yard march in the opening nine plays of the game.

Briscoe hit Gerald Allen with a 48 yard aerial in the third period and ended the scoring in the fourth quarter with a 10-yard completion to right halfback Rick Davis.

The World is 8 Columns Wide

Through the nerves of our worldwide news services we take you to Paris, Moscow, Nigeria—wherever the news is being born. Through the eyes and ears of our reporters we give you a front-row seat in local government. We take you to schools, to a PTA meeting, to a thousand events which shape your community—and your ideas.

And we stress the local touch. For as your home newspaper, the Sunday Journal and Star is an extension of you . . . and of your right to know. Our teletypes, linotypes, presses—even our shoe leather—are set in motion by your interests.

We race the clock (tomorrow it's a new world!) but mixed with ink is the final impress of responsibility: our job of keeping you alert to issues, aware of merchandise and values, informed on public affairs.

It takes 431 of us at the Sunday Journal and Star to do this . . . and enough words to fill a fair-sized book.

Just 8 columns wide . . . but by covering the world of news, these columns broaden out into a newspaper that covers the wide, wide world of your own interests. All for only 20c per week . . . delivered to your home.

Patterson To Try For Clay's Title

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP) — Unbeaten champion Cassius Clay places his heavyweight title on the line for the second time Monday night, this one against former two-time champion Floyd Patterson in a match billed for 15 rounds —or considerably less.

Interest may center not so much as to how long the fight lasts but to what extent the boxing fans around the world will accept it.

Indications are that the fans, a courageous lot, won't want to miss it.

The match goes on in the Las Vegas Convention Center, which incidentally is a showcase for even better things, at 9:30 p.m., CST.

It also will be shown for an international audience on a closed circuit theater-auditorium system in the United States and Canada and even disrupt the very late-late shows in England and Europe at 4 a.m., their time, if they are blessed with such late-late pleasures.

The early bird satellite will carry the bout abroad.

The promoters, Inter-continental Promotions Inc., and the local Silver State Boxing Club hope for a live gate of $300,000.

Total revenues, they say, may fall short of the record $4.8 million for the first Clay-Sonny Liston thing in Miami, Fla., in 1964, which still isn't a bad record to fall short of.

Whatever the loot, Ali Cassius gets 40% and Patterson 20. Both should be happy, and their followers should be so lucky.

Clay as you might suspect, is the favorite. He is undefeated in 21 professional bouts, and has knocked out 17, including Liston twice when he won the title and defended it.

Patterson, now 30, seven years older than Clay, has had 48 bouts since his debut as a pro in 1952, won 44 and lost four.

Patterson has won five fights in a row in the last two years over such opponents as Santo Amonti, Eddie Machen, Charlie Powell, George Chuvalo and Tod Herring.

The likeable Floyd was edged out in two matches with Liston in one round apiece.

Oddly enough, intra-racial matters figure in this Clay-Patterson bout. Clay calls Floyd the "Black White Hope," and Patterson is an announced critic of Cassius' Black Muslim devotion.

Clay says he will demolish Patterson after "punishing him" for seven or eight rounds—or he might do it in one.

$400,000 Can't Buy Success

By Associated Press

Joe Namath would be the first to admit you can't buy confidence—even for $400,000.

"I don't have any doubts about myself in this pro game anymore," said the New York Jets rookie quarterback. "I made some mistakes early this season but now I've got the confidence in myself I didn't have before."

Namath also has the No. 1 signal-calling job for the Jets —having clearly taken it away from Mike Taliaferro—and will be looking to lead New York to its fourth straight victory against Houston Sunday in one of three games on the American Football League program.

In the others, Kansas City is at Boston and Oakland is at Denver. San Diego and Buffalo are not scheduled.

Namath, who led the Jets in recent victories over Kansas City and Boston, and Coach Weeb Ewbank talked earlier in the week about the development of the $400,000 quarterback.

Ewbank said that Namath had trouble at the beginning because he "called a lot of wrong formations. But he studied — and studied hard—and he learned. He is making fewer and fewer mistakes as the season goes along."

Namath admitted as much. "It took a little while to figure things out, but I'm learning every day," he said. "This is an entirely different game than college football. I had to find that out, first of all.

"You've got to keep an eye on everybody — the guys up front, the linebackers and the secondary," Namath explained. "If you don't know where everybody is at every moment, they'll kill you. You have to keep ahead of the defense if you want to win up here."

Namath has moved into the No. 5 spot among the league's quarterbacks with 77 completions in 170 attempts for a .453 completion percentage. He has gained 1,017 yards passing and hit for eight touchdowns.

A victory for the Jets, who have a 3-5-1 record, would equal the longest winning streak in the AFL this season and lift them above the Oilers, 4-5, into second place in the Eastern Division.

Virginia Grinds Past Maryland

College Park, Md. (AP) — Bob Davis tossed four touchdown passes in the first half to end EC Carrington and ran for another in the third quarter, but after he was removed as quarterback Virginia had to battle hard Saturday for a 33-27 football victory over Maryland.

Checkbooks Ready As Pro Football Clubs Near Draft

New York (AP)—The National and American football leagues, which last week fought a long-range verbal battle over premature drafts, will begin the anticipated multi-million dollar fight for the top college players in the country by holding simultaneous drafts Saturday.

And, if last year's battle of the greenbacks is any indication, there will be more charges and counter charges when the actual bidding for players begins while $100,000 bonus contracts and other inducements will be flung at the nation's college elite.

The firing actually began two weeks ago, and it took four separate developments to bring the two highly competitive pro leagues to the drafting table — simultaneously.

The four steps were:

1. An announcement by the AFL that it was moving up its draft one week to Nov. 20, an announcement which drew an avalanche of protest from college circles.

2. Published reports that AFL owners had met on Nov. 2 or 9 and held what amounted to a premature draft ,reportedly conducting six rounds of the draft.

3. Counter charges by the AFL that the National League had met and tapped 13 "must" players the older league felt it must sign after the draft.

4. An announcement by AFL Commissioner Joe Foss that the league was reversing itself and going back to the Nov. 27 draft date—same as the NFL—after receiving assurances from the colleges that they would frown on such NFL activities as "baby-sitting."

That left the two leagues ready to battle it out with their check books after tapping upwards of 300 players Saturday.

The 15 National League teams, including the newly formed Atlanta Falcons, will select 305 players while the nine-team American League, including the new Miami Dolphins, will tap 271 players. Both leagues have made special provisions for the new teams, which will take the field for the first time in 1966.

The Falcons will have the first and last pick in each of the first five rounds of the NFL draft and first pick in the subsequent 15 rounds from six through 20. Under that arrangement the Falcons will wind up with 25 players in the draft.

The Dolphins will get the first two picks in the first round of the AFL draft — a bonus selection and an additional No. 1 choice — then select first on each of the subsequent 19 rounds from two through 20. Under that arrangement the Dolphins will get 21 players.

In addition the Dolphins will select seven future players in a draft of redshirts concurrent with the regular AFL draft. NFL teams must draft redshirts during the regular draft if they want to tap such talent — players still in school whose college class is graduating.

The order of draft, in both leagues, will be determined after Sunday's games, with the teams drafting in inverse order of the combined conference standings. Any ties will be resolved by coin flips with the winner drafting ahead in odd-numbered rounds and the loser ahead on even-numbered rounds.

However, each team will not have the same number of draft selections.

In addition to Atlanta, seven other NFL clubs will have extra choices acquired in trades. Three AFL teams will make more than 20 selections in addition to Miami.

The NFL breakdown shows Atlanta with 25 choices; Baltimore and Philadelphia 22; Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles and San Francisco 21; Green Bay, St. Louis and Washington 20; Dallas and New York 19; Minnesota 18, and Pittsburgh 15.

The AFL breakdown shows New York with 23 selections in the regular draft; Miami, Denver and Kansas City 21; Houston and San Diego 20; Buffalo 19, and Boston and Oakland 18. Each team also will select seven futures.

In the charges and counter charges that developed before the draft top college players were both linked with either the AFL or NFL and specific teams.

The following players were supposed to have been drafted by the AFL:

Miami: Quarterback Rick Norton, Kentucky, and fullback Jim Grabowski, Illinois.
Kansas City: End Aaron Brown, Minnesota.
New York: Tackle Bill Yearby, Michigan; linebacker Carl McAdams, Oklahoma; tackle Sam Ball, Kentucky, and halfback Sam Boozer, Maryland State.
Denver: Linebacker Tom Nobis, Texas, and guard John Niland, Iowa.
Oakland: End Tom Mitchell, Bucknell.
San Diego: End Milt Morin, Massachusetts.

The NFL was supposed to have tapped the following players as musts:

Offensive backs: Grabowski, Norton, and Donnie Anderson of Texas Tech.
Defensive backs, Nick Rassas, Notre Dame and Johnny Roland, Missouri.
Receivers: Brown, Minnesota, and Freeman White, Nebraska.
Offensive lineman: Larry Gagner, Florida; Bruce Van Duke, Missouri; Walt Barnes, Nebraska, and Dick Arrington, Notre Dame.
Linebackers: McAdams and Nobis.

Among the other running backs expected to be high priority targets in the draft are Roger Bird of Kentucky, Mike Dennis of Mississippi, Henry Dyer of Grambling, Billy Clay of Mississippi and Eric Crabtree of Pitt.

Other quarterbacks who might go early are Gary Snook of Iowa and Randy Johnson of Texas A&I. Among the highly rated receivers are Howard Twilley of Tulsa, Bob Hadrick of Purdue and Ben Hawkins of Arizona State.

Among the lineman considered outstanding are Stan Hindman of Mississippi, Harold Lucas of Michigan State, Francis Peay of Missouri, George Rice of LSU and Frank Emanuel of Tennessee.

Two kickers — Soccer-style Charley Goglak of Princeton and bare-footed Dick Kenney of Michigan State — also are figured to go early.

Pressure Now on Packers

By Associated Press

The Packers game at Minnesota highlights Sunday's National Football League card.

The pressure will be on the Packers for several reasons. First, they trail Baltimore by a game; second, they have scored a total of only 36 points in the last four games which they split; and, third, the Western Conference - leading Colts figure to have an easy time with Philadelphia at Baltimore.

Add to these reasons the fact that the game also is a big one for Minnesota. The Vikings' 41-21 loss to Baltimore last Sunday dropped them into a third-place tie in the West with the Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears.

The Lions and Bears will do their bit to unscramble the picture when they meet in Detroit.

In other games, Cleveland leading the Eastern Conference by two games over St. Louis, is at Dallas; New York plays at St. Louis; Los Angeles hosts San Francisco; and Washington is at Pittsburgh.

Green Bay's offense will have to pick up considerably against the high scoring Vikings, whose head coach, Norm Van Brocklin, was so upset over his charges' loss to Baltimore he said he was resigning. He changed his mind, however, and the Vikings will be doing their best not to upset him again.

Johnny Unitas is expected to return to Baltimore's lineup for the Philadelphia game, but if he doesn't the Colts won't be needing any pity. Unitas' replacement, Gary Cuozzo, threw five touchdown passes—something Unitas has never done — against Minnesota.

The Bears will be gunning for their second victory of the year against Detroit. The Lions will have to contend with sensational Chicago rookie Gale Sayers. He has scored 11 touchdowns and needs only two more to break the record for a rookie.

Cleveland can just about end it in the East if it beats Dallas and St. Louis loses to New York.

The Browns' Jim Brown, who had another great day last week in Cleveland's 34-21 victory over the Giants, will be up against a tough rushing defense. He gained 85 yards running against the Cowboys earlier this year in a game won by Cleveland. Brown's performance last week put him over the 1,000-yard rushing mark for the seventh time in nine years.

St. Louis, with quarterback Charley Johnson a doubtful starter, will need a better running game than it had against Chicago if it is to avenge an earlier loss to New York. Cardinal runners managed only 78 yards against Chicago. Johnson still is plagued by a shoulder injury.

Pittsburgh will be trying to get a lead and hold it against Washington. The Steelers lost to St. Louis in the last 37 seconds two weeks ago and bowed to Dallas with just 1:57 left last week. Meanwhile, the Redskins will be trying to get back on the track after having a three-game winning streak snapped by Philadelphia.

The Los Angeles-San Francisco game is like the Washington-Pittsburgh contest in that nothing is at stake except pride. San Francisco will be trying to even its record at 5-5, while Los Angeles will be trying to snap a seven-game losing streak and gain its second victory.

City Gyms Open Over Vacation

The World is 8 Columns Wide

Through the nerves of our worldwide news services we take you to Paris, Moscow, Nigeria—wherever the news is being born. Through the eyes and ears of our reporters we give you a front-row seat in local government. We take you to schools, to a PTA meeting, to a thousand events which shape your community—and your ideas.

And we stress the local touch. For as your home newspaper, the Sunday Journal and Star is an extension of you . . . and of your right to know. Our teletypes, linotypes, presses—even our shoe leather—are set in motion by your interests.

We race the clock (tomorrow it's a new world!) but mixed with ink is the final impress of responsibility: our job of keeping you alert to issues, aware of merchandise and values, informed on public affairs.

It takes 431 of us at the Sunday Journal and Star to do this . . . and enough words to fill a fair-sized book.

Just 8 columns wide . . . but by covering the world of news, these columns broaden out into a newspaper that covers the wide, wide world of your own interests. All for only 20c per week . . . delivered to your home.

Can you think of a better bargain?

Swingle Plant at Crete Near Completion

Swingle Rendering Co.'s new push-button plant at Crete may begin operations Jan. 1, the company's first operation since fire destroyed its Lincoln plant 21 months ago. Charles Swingle Sr., vice president of the company, said the 13,000-square-feet plant can process 15,000 pounds of animal carcasses an hour with the cooking done in a 70-foot tower. A new system processes the materials in six minutes compared to three hours formerly required. Swingle said the system, completely odorless, will enable the plant to collect carcasses from up to 200 miles away. After fire destroyed the Lincoln plant, the company was denied permission by the Lincoln City Council to rebuild at their old site near Capitol Beach. A major objection was the plant would create an undesirable odor.

Price Increases Are Rolled Back

Mr. Copper Bows His Shiny Head

New York (AP)—The copper industry, bowing to government pressure, rolled back its price increase last week.

Anaconda Co. and Phelps Dodge Corp., both big producers, rescinded the boost to 38c from 36c on Friday. The government had announced on Wednesday that it would sell at least 200,000 tons of copper from its stockpile.

Kennecott, another big producer, had not joined in the increase.

The copper industry's backdown followed by a week the aluminum industry's withdrawal of a price increase. In the aluminum case, the government threatened to throw 300,000 pounds of stockpiled aluminum on the market.

However, the parallel between the two moves wasn't exact.

The big difference between the copper and aluminum situations was that there is a shortage of copper, whereas aluminum is in reasonably good supply. Prices of copper sold by nonproducers, such as suppliers, has rocketed to nearly 70c a pound.

The western world used 5.3 million tons of copper in 1964 and produced 4.4 million tons. The balance came from scrap.

The government's stockpile holds 810,000 tons with 775,000 tons estimated as a necessary reserve for war.

In addition to releasing metal from the stockpile, the government proposed:

To ask Congress to suspend the 1.7c-a-pound import duty on copper.

To ask the New York Commodity Exchange to curb excessive speculation in copper trading by raising margin requirements.

Initial reaction from the copper industry was favorable.

Phelps Dodge Corp., one of the major producers, said: "We welcome the government's decision to sell stockpiled copper."

It added that "the additional supply should tend to bring down the very high prices which have been charged by nonproducers."

The company called the other proposals by the government "constructive."

But it declined comment on whether the government's action might lead to a rescinding of the price boost by producers.

The curtain came down on the government-aluminum industry controversy when they agreed on sales of stockpiled aluminum. The agreement called for the producers to buy 150,000 to 200,000 tons from the 1.4 million ton surplus next year and 100,000 to 200,000 tons annually thereafter.

The Commerce Dept. released a batch of business statistics reflecting a steadily expanding economy. Payrolls in October showed the sharpest gain this year, corporate profits climbed again in the July-September period and cash dividends continued to mount a 10% increase over 1964.

Automobile production hit a new 1965 weekly high last week with an estimated 223,400 passenger cars coming off assembly lines, compared with 219,566 last week and 159,042 a year ago. Among them was the 8 millionth car of the calendar year. With about seven weeks to go, the industry was confident that the 9 million mark would be topped with ease.

Biggest in History

Automobile sales for Nov. 1 to 10 were the biggest in history for the period. Dealers delivered 272,098 cars against the old record of 217,680 set in the first 10 days of November, 1962.

Steel production inched up last week to 2.03 million tons, a gain of 0.4% over 2,021,000 tons the previous week.

The Christmas buying season got off to an early start toward an expected record. Department stores' holiday decorations and merchandise displays started making an appearance.

The national Retail Merchants Assn. reported that a survey showed that most merchants expect Christmas business to top last year's by 10%.

American Telephone Co., which with 2.6 million stockholders has the largest shareholder family of any corporation, increased its quarterly dividend on common stock to 55c from 50c.

Soyas Mixed; Wheat, Corn Off

Chicago (UPI) — Soybeans closed mixed with wheat, corn was fractionally lower, oats were fractionally higher, and rye was heavy on the Chicago board of trade last week.

Prices for soybeans reached new highs, not hit since late in July, early in the week. But later, prices steadily declined. The government estimated the 1965-66 bean crush at 515 million bushels or more than 30 million bushels than last season.

The corn market reflected the increase in movement from the interior and prices moved fractionally lower.

Wheat prices were lower, erasing most of the gain made since the beginning of the month. Exporters were active with India taking 18.5 million and Chile 3.5 million bushels.

Oats made new highs and rye sold close to the season's lows, with the July contract reaching a new low.

Middle Weights

New York (UPI)—Although half of adult Americans are overweight, it's not the grossly obese who diet most.

The woman who is only slightly overweight is much more likely to do something about it than one who is frankly fat, the survey, conducted by the makers of a liquid dietary, showed.

Securities Plod Along

New York (UPI) — The stock market continued to plod along the consolidation trail last week and only a handful of blue chips and several high flyers featured the list. Trading was moderately active.

The consolidation, the narrow churning characteristic of a market searching for a trend, was particularly evident in blue chips and was reflected in the lackluster performance on the Dow-Jones industrial index during the first three sessions.

Government pressure on copper producers to reduce the price of the strategic material plus normal Thursday selling pressure sent the Dow Jones reeling back 6.07 on Thursday.

Some modest improvement was made in the final session but despite the rise in the average the advance-decline showed only a barely higher list.

Freedom Group Director to Talk

George Thomas of Omaha, executive director of the Congress of Freedom, Inc., will speak at 2:30 and 8 p.m. Friday at Gateway Auditorium, 61st and O.

Thomas, editor of "Greater Nebraskan," will show a movie, "Katanga — the Untold Story."

Pearl Harbor Reunion Dec. 4

St. Paul, Neb.—The annual reunion and convention of the Pearl Harbor Attack Veterans, Midwest, will be held Dec. 4 in St. Paul and Wolbach.

Convention chairman C. E. Thompson, publisher of the St. Paul Phonograph and the Wolbach Messenger, said the memorial service will be held on the Howard County Courthouse lawn at 11:57 a.m.

Other events of the day include a breakast, color guards from central Nebraska towns, a noon smorgasbord in Wolbach and evening banquet in St. Paul with Gov. Frank Morrison as speaker.

Cattle Supply Is Down

Market Not Impressed

Omaha (UPI) — The Livestock Foundation of Omaha said last week's slaughter cattle supply was down slightly from the previous week.

The foundation said in its weekly report that the distribution pattern was good.

Neither fact seemed to make any impression on the market.

Instead, the continued relatively high tonnage of dressed beef and a sluggish trade in that commodity kept a shadow over the cattle market.

Buyers were selective and operated cautiously throughout the week.

At Omaha and the 11 other major markets, the week's cattle and hog run ended up short of the previous week but above a year ago; sheep were below both the previous week and last year.

Steers Off

Fed steers and heifers were 25-50 cents lower for the week, with heifers under somewhat less pressure as the spread between steers and heifer prices narrowed.

The steer top was $26.35 for 1,197 pounders; heifer top was $25.25 paid for 971 pounders.

The average price of slaughter steers at Omaha was $24.52, against $24.59 the previous week; for slaughter heifers $23.46 against $23.50.

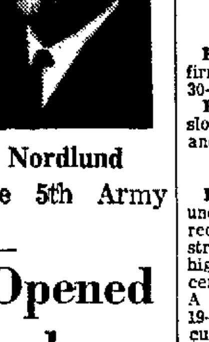
Butcher hogs finished the week mostly $1 to $1.50 higher, sows mostly $1 up.

Barrows and gilts weighing 190-300 pounds were bracketed at $23.50-25; 320 to 600 pound sows sold from $21.25-23.

Wooled lambs closed steady to 25c lower, instances 50c off, shorn lambs mostly steady. Bulk of wooled lambs sold at $23.50-24, week's high $24.25, shorn lambs brought $22.75-23.25. Slaughter ewes at $5-6 were steady. There were 79 pound feeder lambs at $24.50.

Business Notes

Staley Post To Nordlund



Nordlund

Donald E. Nordlund, 43, Stromsburg native and a graduate of Midland College at Fremont, has been named president of the board of A. E. Staley Manufacturing Co. at Decatur, Ill.

During the Korean War, Nordlund was claims judge advocate of the 5th Army area.

Branch Opened By Westinghouse

Westinghouse Electric Corp. has opened a new 5,000-square-foot wholesale warehouse-sales office at 815 K. It will stock wiring materials and small appliances. Its staff includes sales representative Al Smith and branch superintendent Dale Tomasek.

Jaycee Seminar Here Next Year

The Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce will be the host chapter for the 1966 U.S. Jaycee community development Seminar.

This annual conference has been held in Norman, Okla., each of the past three years.

The Seminar will bring Jaycee leaders from all 50 states to the Nebraska Center next July 17-19.

Knowledge Shot

Washington (CDN) — Scientists speculate that it may become possible in the future to inject students with knowledge. In a recent experiment, a chemical taken from the brains of rats that had learned to approach a food cup at the sound of a click was injected into other rats. The untrained rats responded as if they had had similar teaching.

Frank Talk Tells Integration Problems

What Teachers In Atlanta Say

By United Press International

In Atlanta this fall three elementary schools and three high schools had a change in enrolment from all white to predominantly Negro students

It's a situation occurring more and more throughout the nation and it has produced some difficult problems and some pleasant surprises

A reporter sat down recently with six teachers each from one of the newly integrated schools and had a candid discussion. The conversation was tape recorded. Here are some of the things the teachers had to say

Q What reaction did you get from white children when Negroes first came into your class?

A (High school) A small percentage were belligerent a small percentage comical laughing about it whenever there were just a few Negro students there were a few brave souls who tried to help them But then they lost some of their white friends

A In my elementary school the situation was different I was delighted to see how well they got along. They acted just like children We went out to recess and I said form a circle I didn't tell them how to form it But there would be white children dotted along with Negroes They would be holding hands and they didn't see any difference There was more the reaction of curiosity The first week I would see them feeling each other's hair

Q. Do you find cases where a white boy stands up for a Negro boy and vice versa?

A I had that happen in the cafeteria just the other day. A white boy was chasing a colored boy and a colored boy turned around and said the other colored boy had been [illegible] He had cared [illegible] some time see [illegible] colored boys all [illegible] I heard I did say [illegible] to be honest I can't tell whether this one was white or not

Q. Do the Negro students have leadership qualities?

A Very definitely My sixth grade class elected a Negro girl president and a white girl vice president The whites are outnumbered 9 to 20) but each girl was very well qualified

Q Do you find them more or less eager to learn?

A Less so.

A But very responsive

A When you discuss something they are very eager and just jump out of their seats to talk about it their little hands leaping into the air But they have a very hard time getting down to that systematic format where you can really learn. They are not organized It's their home life. I think

A But when they respond, it's like any other child except with a little more enthusiasm

A They are bubbling all the time

A They don't just walk down the hall they bounce

A The first week of school I spent the whole time trying to get them to raise their hands, not to speak out . just to get them to sit down, stay in their seats not to go to the pencil sharpener . . I have sixth grade . they should have learned it by now

Q. Do you still find this same thing in high school?

A The same thing they are still responsive very eager but not to learn they still don't want to stay in their seats

Q How about discipline?

A The colored children are so far behind even the bright ones so far behind in education it's obvious they never had the discipline of fast learning in class they are not exposed to this at home and I don't think they have been exposed in their schools

A We speak two different languages

A You try to use something that you assume the child has already experienced and unless it is Popeye or Bugs Bunny or something he has seen on TV he can't understand

A In my class I gave a little test One of the questions was this: 'Did early man find it hard or easy to live?' I said just write the word 'hard' or 'easy.' When I graded it, I marked this one paper wrong for that question This child came up to me and said 'I got this first one right and you marked it wrong' I said 'Jeffry, there is no answer there' He said, it's hard but I couldn't spell it so I drew one' And there was a picture of a heart But I hadn't figured them out The child must have something if he can associate like that But he didn't know the difference between 'heart' and 'hard.'

A You know, there's something being done about that, starting this year. This is the language lab (part of operation Head Start) It's a communications skills laboratory The idea is to teach them standard word usage basically to read to bring them up to somewhere near grade level

A I have been working three weeks trying to get my (eighth grade) class to pronounce three worlds correctly: four yellow and earn We go over it and over it

A The need to be led If the teacher says it is time to sit up straight they all want to sit up straight and they want them now to be first

A I've always wondered where that stops By the time they come to us (in high school) it's different There is an elementary school near us and I see the children skipping with such enthusiasm By the time they come to us, they are dragging

A One reason for that is relationship In elementary school you have departmentalized teaching The child has the same teacher all day and he identifies with the one teacher more than if he has six different teachers

Q. The common complaint is that Negro children bring into the classroom bad language and that they are immoral.

A. Well, if you tell a colored boy in high school to stick his shirt tail in, he might just unzip his pants right there in class and think nothing about it You have to learn to tell him to go to the restroom

A At first, we thought they were doing things like that for shock value but now we know this is not so They just don't see anything wrong with it

A Well, in one of my classes, they used to scream across the room at each other They called each other names in four letter words . it didn't have to be important They would think of an argument or something that happened before class and they would get up and yell

Q Do you find Negro pupils belligerent at you when you lay down a firm rule? Do they blast out at you?

A Not so much belligerent But they'll haggle with you If you'll argue with them they're not being vicious They just like to haggle They have a way of beating you on discipline They drag

Q. What's the reaction of the few white pupils you have to all this?

A They are very quick to blame the Negro children I had a note from a parent of a white child who said she was keeping her daughter home because the 'niggers' were beating her up Well it turned out this child made up that story They are quick to do that

A And the white kids expect us to back them right or wrong

A Last year we were supposed to have a 700 to 300 ratio (in a high school) They thought this would work, and I think it would have But the neighborhood was changing and the Negro parents wanted their children to go to a closer school So they ran in 400 more And the white kids began to look around and they felt outnumbered. They got scared and on the Friday after school opened, 400 withdrew. That left 800 Negroes and 300 whites

Those whites were tough. They had started at that school and they were going to finish, come hell or high water Most of them were seniors and on the football team These whites protected each other The boys got together and made sure the girls got safely down the halls I must say, the Negro boys have not gotten out of line with white girls so far. This is touchy ground. And so far as I know, no white boy has said anything out of line to a Negro girl

By the way, one good thing happened this year We had three white boys on the football team The rest were Negroes Last year, it was totally white. And they elected a white boy captain this year.

Q. Have you run into cases where Negroes have joined in extracurricular activities?

A Yes, and another strange thing. Many times, when the Negroes are in the majority they will elect whites but you don't find whites electing Negroes

Q. Are you able to tell how many years behind these Negro children are?

A. In reading, the eighth grader reads at third grade silent and second grade oral level.

Q. Wouldn't you say this is the major contributing factor to the loss of interest?

A They can't do it so they give up It's not that they are not interested It's just so frustrating

A. Small classes are the answer. I have 40 in my third grade class. If I had 20, I could do miracles

A If they started integration in kindergarten instead of in high school, the problem would not have been nearly so bad When these Negro children we now have in kindergarten get to you in eighth grade they will be much more prepared. The kindergarten child most of the time doesn't know the difference between colored and white They play together

A I know where these kids get their ideas — from their parents They come in and say right off, 'I don't like these colored kids' These little children don't have the idea Their minds are not mature enough to accept it not as much as a child of 16 who has a feeling of hate in him already

Q. Can the situation about the Negro children be changed?

When these children learn, they are going to make better homes somehow the school today must find a way to reach the home

Nebraskans Plan Late Turkey Dinners This Year

By HELEN HAGGIE

Thanksgiving will NOT be a little LATE this year . . .

In fact it will arrive right on time next Thursday.

But many families are wondering if the annual Thanksgiving feast may not be a little late.

For there are many eyes on the Nebraska University Cornhuskers as they play their last game of the season—the one against Oklahoma University's Sooners.

This affects not only the 50-odd thousand people who will be sitting in the stadium at Lincoln, but also the fans with television sets in their homes.

"I honestly am not certain when we'll have Thanksgiving dinner with Thursday's schedule," sighed one housewife who was carefully selecting her turkey at the supermarket.

"There's church in the morning, then taking the baby to the sitter's home, getting us home and into our 'reds' for the game, then the game!

"My brother and sister-in-law and our parents are coming to our house for dinner. I told everyone that we might not have dinner before midnight."

"It won't be quite so bad for me," confided the woman standing next in line for turkey. "My mother is coming and since she doesn't have a ticket for the game, I will put the bird in the oven, and she can keep one eye on it and the other on the game via television.

"Only trouble is, she might get so interested in what's happening up at the stadium she could forget to

'Good Year 'til Vietnam'

By JAN BURNS

"We thought this was going to be a good year for us. Then my husband went to Vietnam."

Coming from someone else, these could be bitter words. But Mrs. Marvin Russell isn't interested in counting troubles.

Wife of a Marine Corps sergeant who has been in service 10 years this month, she's a member of "a service family." Of the seven Russells, she notes, all but one have been connected with the service at one time or another.

Her husband's brother Richard now stationed with Marvin at the Marine base in Chu Lai, South Vietnam.

Formerly of Geneva, Sgt. Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd C. Russell, now live in Lincoln. Mrs. Marvin Russell is from York, where her parents, the Nathan Johnsons, still live.

Married five years and last stationed in Hawaii, the Russells never before have been separated for this length of time.

Mrs. Russell laughingly recounts the difficulties of disposing of her car and returning to the Mainland after her husband left in March for Okinawa and Vietnam.

It was the height of the transfer season for all services and Mrs. Russell was unable to get off the Islands till mid-July. Her furniture didn't get to Lincoln until the middle of August.

"After I finally got settled," she says, "I didn't have anything to look forward to! But now I'm looking forward to Christmas and I'm making things for my nieces and nephews."

"I do quite a bit of sewing and I'm going to a City Recreation ceramics class," she adds.

The past few weeks she's spent a lot of time talking on the telephone to wives of other servicemen in Vietnam, working to organize a wives' club in Lincoln.

"The days go by. Some days I wonder 'What did I do?! But there's washing and ironing, housecleaning—and chasing after my daughter," she laughs.

The Russells' daughter, Sherrill, is four. Noting the temptation to "fix a

Lincolnite's Dream of Becoming an Artist Comes True . . . On Two Continents

Artist Lyberis explains his paintings to Culler Junior High School students. Inset is

By HOLLY SPENCE

William Lyberis could be classified as a dreamer, but if dreams are real, his life as an artist is surely a dream come true.

"I have always wanted to be an artist, I can't ever remember of wanting to be anything else," said Lyberis, a former Lincolnite.

Lyberis, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, adopted Paris as his home for nearly nine years and has now returned to the United States to open a studio in New York City. He is visiting his mother, Mrs. William Lyberis, at 1501 Nemaha.

Following his first trip to Paris, Lyberis returned to teach at the University of Indiana and "discovered college life was not for me," so returned to Paris.

"I wanted to open a gallery," he said, but added that so many sprang up at that time in Paris, that it seemed unwise. "I guess that you just have to be the right painter at the right time," said Lyberis.

Studied in Museums

Lyberis studied art, not by a strenuous study schedule, but by visiting art museums in Europe and concentrating on paintings of the masters.

His Paris study was made possible through Fulbright and Wooley grants in the form of monthly allowances. Lyberis said that painters are not restricted to studies, but must learn through observations and studies on their own. When the money from the grants had been used, Lyberis stayed on in Paris.

"You can't teach painting; one learns from the fundamentals of art at the University of Nebraska and then continued on his own.

"In Paris I painted day in and day out," he said. He often went into the country and made sketches. He would then return to his studio and paint.

Most of his paintings are of still life and landscapes and possess an air of Renoir impressionism. Lyberis works mainly in oils, but also does watercolor and ink drawings.

'A Fairyland'

"As I walked down the streets, it reminded me of a fairyland," said Lyberis of Paris. But there is a reason for returning to the United States.

"Paris is being spoiled," Lyberis remarked as he told of the razing of beautiful 19th Century buildings and the erecting of glass skyscrapers. Lyberis likes New York City even though it is modern. "You expect New York City to be modern."

Of the addition of supermarkets and drugstores to Paris, Lyberis said, "It is now an international city where it was once typically French."

Many miles stretch between Lincoln and Paris, but the Lyberis family expressed excitement over Bill's stay in Paris. "My father came from Greece, and he felt as if he were giving back one of his sons," said Lyberis.

Although Bill is the only artist in the family, a brother, George, finds a chance to use his creativity as a science teacher at Culler Junior High School in Lincoln.

Lyberis doesn't have a great liking for Op or Pop Art but says, "They are valid like any other

Callers Today Aid MD Drive

A door-to-door canvass today in areas where volunteer callers have not already worked is scheduled to conclude the major part of the 1965 Muscular Dystrophy Assn.'s fund-raising in Lincoln and Lancaster County.

The goal is $20,000, of which a quarter will be used in the county to pay for therapy, lifts, wheel chairs, braces, etc., for muscular dystrophy (MD) victims in this area, according to Orville Reddish, president of the county association.

The balance will go to the national organization, which spends most of its funds for research in an attempt to find a cure for the disease.

The muscular dystrophy organization is not affiliated with and receives no funds from the Community Chest. Locally it has no paid employes, Reddish said.

Muscular dystrophy is a presently-incurable disease which causes deterioration of the muscles.

Margaret Wise is chairman of the house-to-house drive. Neighborhood women and volunteer groups are providing the 1,800 canvassers.

Francis Bennett is rural drive chairman. Howard Olson heads a business drive.

Art Talk At Sheldon

A talk on "Four Nebraska Sculptors" will be presented by Norman Geske at 3 p.m. today in the University of Nebraska Sheldon Art Gallery.

Geske, director of the Gallery, will discuss the exhibition of works by four sculptors who are on the faculties of Nebraska colleges and universities.

They include: Roger Williams, Doane College in Crete; Gary Coulter, Hastings; Sidney Buchanan, Omaha University, and William Cordiner, Wayne State Teachers College.

Hot Gravy Necessary

baste the turkey. But we'll chance it."

"We're not going to have the traditional Thanksgiving feast at our house. Instead we'll have cold turkey and dressing, but I'll have hot gravy, if anyone wants to make hot sandwiches.

"We're going to early church services," another woman said. "We'll even wear our red outfits to church, so that we can go to the stadium early."

Nebraskans are planning Thanksgiving celebrations Thursday — right on schedule. But the celebrations are a bit different than the usual holiday—that of the family leisurely going off to church, then gathering round the festive board.

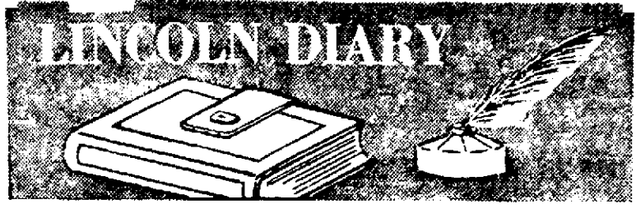
Instead, families are making an elaborate timetable for the day's events — and many Nebraskans are planning their activities around the Big Game.

Legion Groups Support Youth

A resolution expressing confidence in American youth and commending young people for their achievements was adopted by the American Legion and Auxiliary area child welfare conference.

The child welfare meeting concluded the Legion and Auxiliary's week-long midwestern area conference on Girls State, veterans' rehabilitation and child welfare. The conference was at the Hotel Cornhusker.

The child welfare group will hold its next meeting in Indianapolis.



Sunday: Dr. William E. Hall, director of the University of Nebraska School of Journalism, and Bill Tillinghast, NU journalism student, returned from California today with this story.

The day before the two left for the Sigma Delta Chi fraternity convention in Los Angeles, a 727 jet plane crashed. The day after their arrival in the convention city, another same-type plane crashed.

Sunday morning Dr. Hall and Bill surmised from facial expressions that they were no more disconcerted than their fellow-passengers when the plane they were booked on was a 727 jet.

A delayed take-off was caused by mechanical troubles.

"I had less than full confidence in this plane in the first place," Dr. Hall told Bill.

Finally, the plane was airborne and the pilot's voice came through loud and clear:

"Thanks for the confidence you have in this jet 727." Little did he know.

Try for Master's?

Monday: The young woman received her diploma from Lincoln Public Schools adult education department saying she had completed the course, "Football, A Spectator Sport —For Women Only." It was signed by all of the University of Nebraska assistant football coaches. They had served as instructors.

One fellow worker quipped:

"Now, are you going to take your Master's degree under Coach Bob Devaney?"

Tuesday: Someone was disappointed at the coffee hour this morning.

One purchaser of doughnuts, crossing P street, had a sack of the goodies, when a gust of wind whipped the sack from her arm.

Mash 5

Wednesday: Scene—elevator.

"Mash 5," were the directions the young woman gave to the button-pusher.

"I wonder," another passenger mused as the elevator proceeded after our heroine had departed on the fifth floor, "how long her husband's been in the Air Force."

Thursday: And what a crying shame not a single "her" was in the crowd to hear one Omaha expert tell Atomic Energy Commission site team visitors about Nebraska feminine fashion resources, especially when he quoted another state authority:

"Lincoln women are just a wee bit up on their Omaha sisters in this respect."

Friday: Tomorrow, at least, will be one Saturday when loyal Cornhusker fans won't be biting their nails, since there is no football game scheduled.

One Lincolnite who listened to the broadcast last week admits he wasn't wearing his red jacket and hat when the game began—

"But in the middle of the last quarter, I put them on. Should have done it sooner!"

California Vows Said

San Diego, Calif. — Miss Euphemia Brownell became the bride of Gerald Lee Warren of La Jolla, Calif., in an 8 p.m. Saturday ceremony at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Miss Brownell is the daughter of Dr. Durwin H. Brownell of San Diego and Mrs. Brownell of Moab, Utah. Mr. Warren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Elias Warren of Papillion, Neb.

The bride wore a semi-fitted French silk brocade gown. A cathedral length mantle train fell from the shoulders of the gown.

Her headpiece was made of Brussels rose point lace which the bride's grandmother purchased in 1900 in Brussels.

The bride carried white roses.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Alexander S. Cochran Jr., of Monterey. Bridesmaids were the Misses Jennifer Adams, Candace Sinclair, both of San Francisco, and Stephanie Nuttall. Bridesmatrons were Mmes. James Chaffee of Albany, Michael Lienert and David Brownell of San Diego.

Best man was Edward C. French of Hillsborough. Ushers were Charles F. Fletcher Jr. of DelMar, John W. Cadenhead, William F. Black, Richard D. Corey, Charles D. Rollins, Neil Morgan, Anthony L. Shepard and Dr. Ian M. Bradburn, all of La Jolla.

After a wedding trip to Mexico, the couple will live at 2664 Costebelle Drive in La Jolla.

January Rites Set

Mr. and Mrs. Farel L. Hyland announce the engagement of their daughter Susan Jeaniece to Oliver U. J. Block of Manhattan, Kan., son of Mrs. Ulfert G. Block of Gothenburg.

Miss Susan Hyland

Miss Hyland is a graduate student at the University of Nebraska, where she is a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority. She is also a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron Nu honoraries.

Mr. Block, a University of Nebraska graduate, is a graduate student at Kansas State University at Manhattan. He is a past president of Beta Sigma Psi and a member of Pi Mu Epsilon, Sigma Pi Sigma and Sigma Tau.

The couple plans a Jan. 29 wedding.

Wedding At Hooper

Hooper — Miss Marlene Muller of Marshalltown, Ia., became the bride of Ivan Prigge, also of Marshalltown, in a 4:30 p.m. Saturday ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Muller of Scribner. Mr. Prigge is the son of Mrs. Henry Prigge of Ulysses.

Brocade of satin and clipped velvet fashioned the bride's floor length gown.

A satin pillbox held her veil. She carried gardenias and stephanotis.

Mrs. Duane Muller of Scribner was matron of honor. Miss Joanne Bowman of Uehling was bridesmaid.

Best man was John Prigge of Ulysses. Ernie Prigge of Lincoln was groomsman. Ushers were Duane Muller of Scribner and Otto Reinhold of Surprise.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live at 2007 Summit in Marshalltown.

MEDICINES OUT OF THE EARTH

The biblical Book of Ecclesiastes, written over 2000 years ago, advised the wise to go to the earth for healing drugs. This directive was followed, but in the last fifty years more valuable discoveries have been perfected than all the preceeding centuries.

Medicines now do more than just give relief from pain and discomfort. Many of them can accomplish a cure. But first the cause must be diagnosed by a physician. You can get any needed medicine from us.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Camp Fire Girls Travel

Camp Fire Girls in the Lincoln area as well as all over the country have become armchair travelers by taking "magic carpet" trips to their favorite countries.

The annual project called "Think Big — And Widen Your World" focuses on travel and friendship.

Some Camp Fire Girls will be able to take a summer cruise to the Horizon Club Conference and meet girls from other parts of the United States.

The Wi Tan Ko sixth grade Camp Fire Girls from Meadow Lane School have made their "magic carpet" trips to Mexico and Hawaii.

The Lincoln girls held a party and came dressed in native costumes. Mexican food was served and native dances were taught.

Miss Naomi Kozuma of Hawaii presented a travelog on Hawaii and danced.

A travel agency provided information on Hawaii and Mexico. The Wi Tan Ko group completed the project with a train trip to Hastings with other Camp Fire Girls to visit The House of Yesterday.

Best man was Lary Littrell. Norman Agena was groomsman. Ushers were Royston Jones and Carleton Flynn Jr.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live at 1036 Charleston.

Half Not Whole

Tomatoes that are to be broiled are easiest to handle if they are cut into halves rather than slices.

Scientists Find Overeating Is 'All in the Head'

San Francisco (UPI) — Modern science has found that, like so many other afflictions, the problem of overeating is all in the eater's head, according to the California Medical Association (CMA).

That is to say a little bunch of cells in the brain, collectively called the hypothalamus, automatically regulate the appetite to balance it with energy output so the body remains in a normal weight bracket.

However, despite constant messages from this small clump of tissue, its overeating master usually manages to ignore the advice one way or another, the CMA reports.

The health authorities said some people avoid the messages because they have been trained to certain eating habits since childhood; others ignore them for emotional reasons, still others blunt communications from the appetite center by dulling it with alcohol.

Cheaper to Cook

Almost all cereals are inexpensive but the cheapest of them all are the ones you cook yourself: rice, oats and wheat.

Nourishing

For extra nourishment, add four tablespoons of dry milk to one cup of fluid milk.

Abaca, a strong cordage fiber, is often called by the trade name, manila hemp, though it is not a hemp and very little of it is grown as far north as Manila.

Male Modes

Suits, Dark and Bright, and Ensembles Set Elegant Trend

What's new in clothing? Suits will remain dark, but they will be deep and bright —black-bronze, black-burgundy, iridescent. Jackets will have lowered buttons and lowered, longer lapels—with a look of linen. Mated ensembles, sports jackets coordinated with slacks in dyed-to-match colors. The overall look of men's clothing can be described as "classic," even elegant.

Trends: A new Dacron-cotton tricot shirt needs no ironing, and puts the cotton against the body for greater absorption and more comfort. A smart style touch with this season's lined corduroy outercoats — a wool ascot scarf matching the lining and lapel facing.

In The Stores: Unusual gift items seen in the boutiques of men's stores: A table cigarette lighter in the shape of a miniature Texas oil well; a wooden valet that unfolds to become a ladder (to reach your top closet shelves); a dozen ingenious new battery-operated items, and even a battery recharger that gives 15 times the original life.

Care of Clothes: Take care of good golf shoes. When you've played your last round of the season, give them a good cleaning, put them on shoe trees, lubricate well and store in shoe bags for the winter. Today's shirting fabrics, new linings and built-in collar stays eliminate need for starch. Starch shortens the life of shirts, so tell the laundry to forget it.

Quote-Unquote: Women's designer Fontayne, "Men have dressed too somberly in the past several decades. Plenty of bright things, in perfect taste, are now available. Be bold!" Singer Jane Morgan: "Wonder what men would think if women wore stockings dangling down around their ankles — as so many men do?"

Dress Tips: Try wearing a narrower brimmed hat if you want your shoulders to look broader. Long faced men will look less thin if they wear the wider ties that are now back in the stores. For outdoor work on soft ground, like raking leaves, wear your spiked golf shoes. They give you firmer footing, and give the shoes a workout in the off season.

Odd Items: A shop described as "San Francisco's first authentic grooming establishment," which features hair-styling for men, also includes "a beautiful French receptionist, and lovely ladies for pedicures and shoe shines."

Henny Youngman has his shirts monogrammed "Milton Berle," and comic Lenny Kent's carry the embroidery, "Genius."

Saks Fifth Avenue recently installed a corner window holding nothing but double-breasted suits—which actually stopped male traffic!

One of New York's well-dressed gents has an opera cape with detachable linings. He switches from red, white, blue or other colors to suit the occasion!

Union Services Of Thanksgiving At 6 Churches

Lincoln worshippers will offer thanks for their bounty at six union services Wednesday and Thursday.

The services, sponsored by the Lincoln Council of Churches' Division of Christian Fellowship, include —The Rev. Robert Holbrook, pastor of Lincoln Heights Methodist Church, speaking at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Belmont Baptist Church, 3424 No. 14th.

—The Rev. Don Gall, director of Christian education for the Nebraska United Church of Christ Conference, will speak at 7:30 p.m. at Southminster EUB Church, 16th and Otoe.

—The Rev. Warren Swartz, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist Church, will speak at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at Second Baptist Church, 525 No. 58th.

—Dr. C. Edwin Murphy, program director for the Nebraska Methodist Conference, will speak at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at Evan Methodist Church, 6140 South.

—The Rev. Richard Heim, pastor of First EUB Church, will speak at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at Newman Methodist Church, 2265 S.

—The Rev. Harold Sandall, associate pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, will speak at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at St. Paul Church, 1144 M.

Offerings from the services will be donated to the Church World Service's "Share Our Substance" program. SOS makes surplus American commodities available for world relief activities.

Clothing Collection

Plans have been made to gather used clothing contributions in eastern Nebraska, western Iowa and adjoining Kansas and Missouri areas as part of the annual Thanksgiving clothing gathering for Lutheran World Relief, Inc.

Officials of Lutheran Men of Omaha, the organization in charge of loading arrangements, said railroad cars will be loaded this month at Norfolk, West Point, Fremont, Beatrice, Hastings and South Sioux City, Neb., and Atlantic, Ia.

Omaha warehouse space has been arranged to receive Omaha, Lincoln and Council Bluffs clothing contributions, plus outstate contributions loaded at other loading points.

Notices of collection and loading plans have gone to 561 congregations from Ray J. Christensen, president of Lutheran Men of Omaha.

In Lincoln, collections from churches will be made Saturday and the clothing will be trucked to Omaha for loading the following day.

75-Pipe Organ a Labor Of Heart and Ingenuity

Just use "common sense," says John Carter Cole, vocal music instructor at Lincoln Southeast High School.

Using common sense, thousands of man-hours of work, patience and his knowledge of music, Cole has built such an organ at First Evangelical Covenant Church, 6024 L.

$10,000 in Parts

Edwin N. Lewis, head of the two-man firm and a long-time friend of Cole's, joined the music instructor in Lincoln.

They ordered parts for the instrument from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Holland at a cost of about $10,000. Price of a manufactured organ of similar quality would be $20,000 to $25,000, Cole said.

Cole had never before attempted to build an organ. Lewis was the experienced member of the team, having worked as an organ repairman throughout the Midwest.

In August, Mr. Lewis died.

'Couldn't Quit'

There were, he admitted, periods of frustration, "but I couldn't quit."

He used the new organ-building knowledge he had learned from watching and working with Mr. Lewis, "common sense," and church recruits.

For five months, he spent "every spare minute I've had" at the church. "Many nights we've worked on all kinds of electrical wiring, soldering, carpentry."

The congregation watched the progress each Sunday.

For two months the church kitchen was converted into a shop, but the rest of the time the partially-built organ was in the center of the choir loft.

Cole termed the organ small, "but it sounds large."

The new pipe organ will be dedicated at 7 tonight at the church. First Presbyterian Church organist L. Max Bunker will perform.

Organ built with "common sense" . . . Cole at console.

'Pilgrims' Will Attend Service

The Rev. Donald Gall, Christian education director for the Nebraska United Church of Christ Conference, will speak at 9:30 a.m. Thursday at First-Plymouth Congregational Church, 20th and D.

A First-Plymouth family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hurst and their children, Gwen, 5, and Louise, 8, will wear Pilgrim costumes for the service.

A drummer in Pilgrim dress will also participate in the annual Thanksgiving program.

York Faith Lutheran Dedication Today

York—Two-year-old Faith Lutheran will dedicate its new church today with special 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. services.

The Rev. Henry Niermann of Cheyenne, Wyo., president of the Southern Nebraska District of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, will speak in the morning and the Rev. Otto Hussmann of Grand Island, district mission board chairman, in the afternoon.

The parent Emmanuel Lutheran Church of York will participate with its choir singing for the morning service and Faith Lutheran choir singing in the afternoon. Harold Stelzer, principal of Emmanuel Lutheran School, will be organist for both services.

The Rev. Norman Hannemann, church minister, Harold Rank, building committee chairman, and Raymond Eichman, construction superintendent, will participate in a door-opening ceremony.

The contemporary-design church has a basic A-frame nave with a hyperparabolic roof. The chancel features a stone altar topped with black marble. A lighted cross is mounted on the wall above the alter.

More than 350 worshippers can sit in the nave, 100 in the choir loft and 75 in the narthex overflow area.

A foyer separates a two-story education wing from the church proper. The education wing has the church office, pastor's study, library and an assembly hall on the second story and a kitchen, meeting room and fellowship hall on the first floor.

Faith Lutheran congregation was organized on Oct. 27, 1963, as a daughter congregation to Emmanuel Lutheran Church in York. When organized, the church had 143 members; it now has 283.

Lutherans Offer 100 Scholarships

One hundred individual scholarship awards ranging from $200 to $1,500 are being offered by Aid Association for Lutherans in its second annual All-College Scholarship Competition.

Grants will be made on a competitive basis to 1966 high school seniors who are members of AAL on Dec. 31. Amount of the awards will depend on student financial needs.

To compete, eligible seniors must have registered for the College Entrance Examination Board Tests to be given Dec. 4.

Eagle Scouts

These Boy Scouts have received Eagle Scout rank at recent courts of honor: Terry Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Leslie of 5615 Morrill; Douglas Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brooks of 6511 Ballard, and Fred Craigie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Craigie o 1030 No. 48th.

Leslie and Brooks are members of Troop 1, sponsored by Goodyear, and Craigie is a member of Troop 50, sponsored by Warren Methodist Church.

Wesleyan Board

The State Board of Woman's Wesleyan Educational Council will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Youth Film

Lincoln Youth for Christ will sponsor a film, "The Moral Choice," at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at Gateway Auditorium, 60th and O.

Oldest Parish High School Closing Doors

Chicago Daily News Special

Odell, Ill. — St. Paul's High School in Odell, believed to be the oldest Catholic parish high school in the United States, will close next June.

Msgr. James F. Garrahan, St. Paul's parish priest, said the 92-student high school will close because state accreditation requirements and high costs "have made it nearly impossible to operate a school this small."

St. Paul's, founded in 1898, is the oldest continuously operating Catholic high school financed by its parish alone, according to Msgr. Garrahan. Most Catholic high schools today are run either by a diocese or by a teaching order.

Odell, a town of 950 population about 70 miles southwest of Chicago, presently has two high schools. The second, Odell Community High, has only 57 students.

"The state placed both schools on probationary status this year," Msgr. Garrahan explained. "By sending our students to Odell Community High, we at least can assure the accreditation of one high school here."

St. Paul's faculty this year includes four nuns, two lay teachers and a priest. The school has been noted for good basketball teams, which have won 11 state plaques since 1950.

"Twenty of our 22 graduates last June have gone on to college," Msgr. Garrahan said. "And we have one National Merit Scholarship finalist this year. But the parish just couldn't afford to keep the school going."

NWU Colloquium For Ministers

Thirty Nebraska Methodist ministers will participate in a ministers' colloquium Monday and Tuesday at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Topic of the colloquium is "The Finality of Christ."

According to Prof. L. E. Mattingly, professor of religion at Wesleyan, the colloquium is an effort by Wesleyan to render a service to the church, to keep the communication open between the ministers and the college and to share with the church the thinking on campus.

Served Aucas

An Ecuadorian missionary to the Auca Indians in South America, Miss Alice Hamlen will speak at 10:50 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. today at Northeast United Missionary Church, 3333 No. 66th.

Townsend Talk At Grace Church

A Kearney Methodist leader will speak on Methodist work in South America today at Grace Methodist Church, 401 No. 27th.

Townsend

The Rev. Dr. Robert L. Townsend, Kearney district superintendent, will speak at 10:45 a.m. at a church Thanksgiving program.

A former minister to Lincoln's Bryan Memorial Church, Dr. Townsend returned two weeks ago from a month-long tour of Methodist mission projects in three South American nations.

Wanted: Young Missionaries

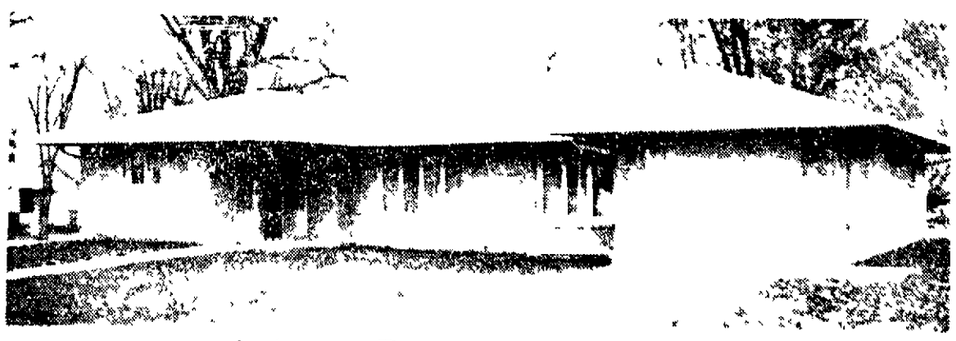
The Methodist Church put out this "Help Wanted" sign for special-term missionaries this time in the fall.

"For it's in autumn," church officials say, "when college seniors and other potential special-term missionaries begin making decisions as to what they will do next year."

The missionaries will serve for two and three years either in the United States or abroad.



Auburn Parsonage Replaced

This replacement for the Auburn Methodist parsonage constructed 50 years ago will be dedicated today by Nebraska Methodist Bishop Kenneth Copeland of Lincoln. Bishop Copeland, the Rev. Melvon L. Ireland of Omaha, district superintendent, the Rev. Homer B. Clements, church pastor, and the church building committee will participate in the dedication of the $30-000 minister's residence.

Livable Ranch Style Patterned on Architect's Own Home

A bluestoned floor ties together the dining room and foyer.

By Associated Press

There was good reason for believing that the latest House of the Week would be something extra special—before we even saw the plans. For we had been told ahead of time that it was patterned after the house which architect Herman H. York designed for his own family.

Sure enough, it turned out to be a residence with a pleasant exterior and an excellent circulation pattern, blended into a first-rate example of tasteful, contemporary design.

It is not a small house, with over-all dimensions of 97' 6" by 45', including the garage. But a family which has a lot large enough and which requires three or four bedrooms on one floor will find it a house that has everything necessary for luxury living. Architect York worked on the floor plan on and off for a year, making several changes until every detail was exactly as he had originally visualized it.

After passing through the covered entry, an impression of depth is achieved by large panoramic windows at the rear of the living room. The stone foyer floor flows into the dining room to further carry out this concept of spaciousness.

Flush Hearth

The formal living room, with its flush hearth fireplace leads directly to a large recreation room. Here, too, the rear is almost all glass.

All of the principal rooms face toward the rear of the property to get the benefit of whatever landscaping is done there. A raised cantilevered hearth is designed into the fireplace of the recreation room, which serves the dual purpose of hearth and sitting area.

At every conference on housing, women say they want a laundry near the kitchen, but not directly in it. Here there is enough space for washer, dryer and clothes-sorter. This is a room for the purpose, not merely a closet.

In this plan there are three closets in the immediate area of the laundry and service section. A washup lavatory and toilet are located between garage, kitchen and rear door.

The garage has been designed with huge storage area. The main double door of the garage is shown at the side instead of toward the front. Approximately 30' from the property line is needed to swing a car into the garage. Should this distance be unavailable, the door can be located facing the front. But a better facade results from the side entry plan.

At the other end of the house, well isolated from the noise of the recreation room and laundry equipment, is the bedroom wing. Two steps separate the sleeping area from the living area. The wide hall of this wing adds luxury at an important cross-over place in the house.

Privacy

Assuming bedrooms No. 2 and 3 are used by the children, it can be seen that they are able to use the bathroom without being seen from the front foyer or living area. The bathroom has a split design so that it can be used by three people simultaneously.

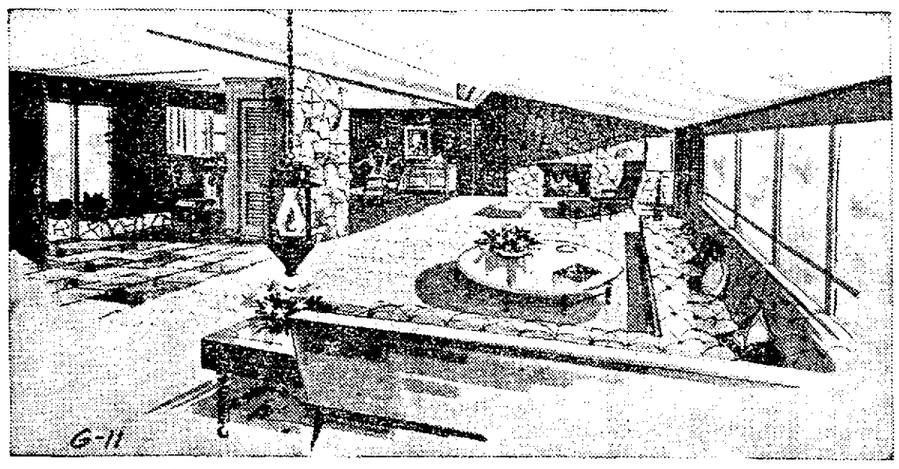
The master bedroom, located at the rear of the house for the most favorable exposure, is designed with its own bathroom and dressing section. This bathroom also is located to give privacy even should the bedroom door be open.

Stone and rough-textured wood are used on the outside with simplicity the keynote.

Architect York believes that a restful exterior is achieved by using a minimum number of different materials and window sizes. He likes to "tie together" some of the window units to create a single unit of two or more openings, as shown in the windows of the kitchen and dining room. The panels under the front bedroom windows are designed to simplify the architectural treatment of these units.

Wide roof overhangs are of great help in reducing maintenance costs and providing protection in rainy weather. In many areas, it is possible with this kind of roof overhanging to omit leaders and gutters. Gravel bed or masonry walks just under the edge of the overhang will suffice to catch water coming down from the roof.

If you have the land, the family and the wherewithal, you can't go wrong with this house.



Gracious living is possible in this spacious area.

Coarse Mulch Is Advocated

When it comes time to mulch flowers for winter protection, use a coarse mulch that will not mat and smother the flowers, advises Wayne Whitney, University of Nebraska extension horticulturist.

This can be such a material as evergreen branches, small branches from trees, corn stalks, soybean stalks, or old chrysanthemum, zinnia, marigold or similar plants, Whitney said.

Your Nurseryman Speaks

Grass Can Grow On Steep Slopes

A new public sidewalk on the east side of 33rd St. from Sewell to High has changed the grade of the surrounding ground. Since some of the homes affected are high above the street, this has created the problem of steep banks.

It has been interesting to see how individual homeowners have solved the problem of a slope facing west where the sun most easily evaporates moisture and burns grass.

At a number of homes the sod was removed for a considerable distance from the new walk. Earth was hauled away. Then the sod was relaid. The result was a gentle slope that will be easier to mow and maintain. The evaporation problem is reduced.

Since cutting sod, removing dirt and relaying sod can involve considerable money, some of the 33rd St. homeowners settled for steep slopes. These obviously will be harder to mow.

However, grass can grow in such situations if hoses are left at the top of the slope to saturate the earth to the sidewalk. More frequent fertilizing also will help.

Fortunately the large trees across the street in Memorial Park will soften the sun's rays on the hottest days of summer. If it were not for this help, some of these slopes would be continuing problems.

Rough and finished retaining walls were also used on some of the steeper slopes. On at least one property, the homeowner planted rock plants between the stones.

One person turned a liability into an asset by using a brick retaining wall as the foundation for an attractive fence.

Two possible solutions were not used. A fast growing ground cover such as Hall's honeysuckle will solve the problem of short, steep banks. It has the advantage of absolute minimal maintenance through the years. However, torrential rains right after planting can cause erosion that is not solved until the plants cover the slope.

If the slope is not too steep, stones can be laid into the ground and rock plants used in the spaces between them.

Garden Gossip

Roses Need a 'Wrap'

By EMERY NELSON
County Extension Agent

Roses usually need some winter protection in Nebraska. Without it, they are likely to be so weakened that the bloom and growth will be greatly inhibited the following year.

For hybrid teas, polyanthas and hybrid polyanthas the best method is to mound up soil around the base of the plant and to stake and tie all canes that might be blown about. Pile the soil at least 8 to 10 inches high. In small rose beds it is better to bring in soil from another part of the garden rather than risk the danger of exposing the roots.

Some gardeners prefer to place a cover of heavy construction paper around the vases. This cylinder is then filled with soil or other insulating material.

The roses should be protected after the first heavy freeze. Thus the plants are conditioned for winter and the soil is still easily worked.

Climbing roses are more difficult to protect in winter. These plants should be pulled over on one side and covered with soil. Wire pins or notched stakes are useful to hold the canes on the ground so they can be covered. Roses in protected sites can be wrapped with straw and covered with burlap.

Lincoln Churches Settings for Weddings

Donna Jean Davis of Nebraska City became the bride of Dr. John Henry Cerny of Dorchester in a 3 p.m. Saturday ceremony at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Rawlings of Nebraska City and the late Henry Esser. Dr. Cerny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cerny of Dorchester.

Mrs. Milton Krenels of Nebraska City was matron of honor.

Best man was James F. Cerny. Ushers were Michael Wittmuss of Dorchester, Alan Kaspar and David Thompson, both of Crete.

The couple will live in Crete.

Yonkey-Doolittle

Miss Donna Irene Yonkey became the bride of Donald H. Doolittle of Columbus in an 8 p.m. Saturday ceremony in First Presbyterian Church.

Their parents are Messrs. and Mmes. Glenn R. Doolittle of Roca and Walter M. Yonkey.

Iridescents and pearls accented the lace bodice of the bride's gown. A wide lace band circled the bouquet taffeta skirt. Back interest was added by a Watteau train.

A satin and organza cabbage rose held her veil. She carried deep yellow roses.

Mrs. Gary L. Rodman of Hallam, Miss. was matron of honor and Miss Betty J. Kleinhans was maid of honor. Bridesmaid and bridesmaid were Miss Carol Kuester and Mrs. Walter M. Yonkey Jr.

Lynn L. Doolittle of Roca served as best man. Ushers were Robert Doolittle and Daryl Mitchell, both of Roca, Marvin Dietrich of Omaha, Rex Lauterbach of Sprague and Terry V. Krull of Kearney.

The couple will live at 2317 22nd St. in Columbus.

Schuler-Argo

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Ann Schuler and Kent Argo was solemnized in a noon ceremony Saturday in Our Saviour's Lutheran Church.

Parents of the couple are Messrs. and Mmes. Marion W. Schuler of Sioux City, Ia., and Marvin Argo of Oketo, Kan.

Cuffing at Empire height highlighted the bride's delustered satin gown. At the back, the cuffing was bowed above a French panel which swept to floor length.

She wore a lace-edged illusion mantilla and carried a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss JoAnn Kuethe of Omaha was maid of honor, and Miss Judith Young of Omaha was bridesmaid.

Serving as best man was Ronald Wegnar of Barneston. Ushers were Barton Rath of Sutton, Gerald Florine of Wayne, John Tapp of Lewellen and Arlan and Duane Argo, both of Wymore.

The couple will live at 5050 Cleveland.

couple of sandwiches" instead of meals, Mrs. Russell explains. "My sister—Suzanne Johnson, a junior at the University of Nebraska—lives with me. I have to cook!"

"My mother-in-law lives just down the street. She calls me up and says 'Do you want to go downtown?'—and off we go!"

Large Correspondence

Three cats and a turtle—"It came home one day with Sherrill" — complete the household. Mama Cat, Raggy and Squirt "keep Sherrill pretty well occupied," Mrs. Russell says. "She dresses them in clothes, puts them in bed, carries them around."

Letters alone could keep Mrs. Russell pretty well occupied.

"In addition to writing to my husband," she explains, "I've always maintained quite a correspondence. It was one of my hobbies when I was younger. I don't believe in sending anything, even a birthday card, with a five-cent stamp without writing something."

Now starting on the "tremendous amount" of Christmas cards she always sends, she's cheery as Christmas herself.

And when the holiday whirl is ended, April will be close enough for Mrs. Russell to concentrate on her happiest anticipation: the end of her husband's 13-month tour of duty in Vietnam.

DG Alumnae Bazaar Dec. 8

Festive holiday decorations will be on display at the Delta Gamma Alumnae Bazaar-Tea from 1 to 4 p.m., Dec. 8 at the homes of Mmes. James Stuart, 1300 Aldrich Rd., and Ellery Davis, 1300 Crestdale Rd.

Funds from the decorations will be used for the Delta Gamma project of aiding the blind.

Chairmen of the event are Mmes. Joseph McWilliams and John Dudgeon.

Movies' Stan Laurel Honored on TV

Many of the entertainment world's top stars will participate in a television comedy special when CBS-TV offers "Salute to Stan Laurel" at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Laurel, whose greatest successes were those in which he and the rotund late Oliver Hardy collaborated, received a special Oscar in 1961. The bow-tied little man, whose woebegone visage inspired a world's laughter, died on Feb. 23, 1965 at age 74.

Among those paying tribute to the longtime movie comedian will be (clockwise) Bob Newhart, Danny Kaye, Ceasar Romero, Gregory Peck, Dick Van Dyke, Tina Louise, Phil Silvers, Leonid Kinskey, Audrey Meadows, Buster Keaton, Louis Nye and Lucille Ball.

Oh yes, that's Laurel in the center.

Parade Saturday

Calm Day Needed By Santa

North Pole's monarch and ballooning bluebloods of the animal kingdom—giant balloon figures ranging from Ape to Zebra—will parade through downtown Lincoln Saturday.

Santa Claus and a cast designed in Cecil B. DeMille dimensions will make their annual Christmas parade appearance at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

They'll be escorted by Elks Club clowns, Shrine units, high school marching bands, the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps and floats.

More than 120 Lincoln Boy Scouts will swap their khaki uniforms for clown suits to lead the balloons along the parade route.

Like last year, the parade will begin at 15th and N, go west on N to 10th, north on 10th to O and east on O to 16th, disbanding at 16th and N.

The Lincoln Promotion Council's $10,000 parade will send 40 balloons from 14 feet to 150 feet in length through the 90-minute parade.

The balloons will include nine Christmas displays, from a 14-foot Santa (there'll also be a live Santa tossing candy) to his huge candy cane, and 31 circus balloons.

Parade sponsors are hoping for nothing more than gentle breezes during the parade.

They don't fear wind would cut attendance—thousands stood five-deep last year despite early morning cold—but an accidental launching.

The big blue hippo, 35 feet long and 15 feet wide, unexpectedly left a parade once in another city, the sponsors said. "One day in the wind, he took off and went sailing away. He sailed over a house and knocked down the chimney," they said.

Even wider than the hippo will be a 19-foot long bulldog, ridden by a red-jacketed monkey.

In a parade all their own will be the elephants, Jumbo, the lead elephant, and Sambo, Mambo, Dombo, Kimbo and Bimbo, the baby, so small she can barely reach up to catch her mother's tail.

Santa Claus (the balloon one) will ride, in a 65-foot long bus.

Memorabilia Being Sought

New York (AP) — A gallery of souvenirs from the glory days of vaudeville is being assembled for exhibit at Broadway's Palace Theater.

The playhouse, for years the country's prime variety showcase, is being converted now into a legit theater for drama and music. The first production booked, "Sweet Charity," opens in January.

Ralph Alswang, designing the renovation, is seeking memorabilia for display in the lounge that will feature a giant mural of vaudeville's top entertainers.

Our Little Town

A Time for Giving Thanks to All

By GERTRUDE SKINNER
Ruskin

Since first I turned the calender to the month of November I have been thinking about giving thanks not only for the material possessions that have come my way over the years but for the people I feel most grateful to:

To my mother for always being home when I came home from school; for her gentle voice which soothed the pain of my bedridden childhood; for making our family home a refuge for every lost and unfortunate soul who crossed her path.

To my father for giving me lots of wholesale freedom; for wearing life with gusto and for not grumbling about financial reverses; and to them both for being and staying in love with each other.

To my husband for choosing me to live with; for his generous, outgoing, uncomplaining disposition; for finding the world his element, for smoothing the paths that my feet must take.

To my son for providing himself for me to especially love and admire and exclaim over; for being incorruptible; for insisting on fine distinctions; for bringing into my life his lovely young wife and two adorable children.

To my maternal grandmother for her fastidious and impeccable taste in dress, religion, politics and the social graces.

To my paternal grandmother for her gay, tiny self, uneducated, uninhibited still untamed and adventuresome at 90 years.

To the people of Ruskin who have made for me a home among them; who have held me close in times of sorrow; excused my flightiness; rejoiced in what measure of happiness that has come my way.

And to the Creator for giving me life for there is much to ponder here, much to suffer, much to rejoice over and I am glad to have had my chance to know life, to puzzle over it and to be thankful for it.

Which Kid?

The Cincinnati Kid
Next at the Stuart

There's this premise that you can separate the men from the boys but never from the girls, and that seems to be what this one is mostly about.

Gambling, woman-chasing Steve McQueen seems to have the title role—or is it Ann-Margret, who is a sort of thief. Or it might be Ann-Margret's unsophisticated rival, Tuesday Weld.

With a raffish, cynical, sexy New Orleans background.

One of them is "The Cincinnati Kid"

Survival

'King Rat'
State, Wednesday

This is a study of survival. Not whether to but how to.

It's set in a Japanese prisoner of war camp in the last few days of World War II, with miserable POWs fighting to conquer brutality, starvation and fear—and emerging triumphant.

Starring George Segal, Tom Courtenay and James Fox.

Segal . . . did he win?

Mullaney, Price . . . money mad!

Fantasy

'Bikini Machine'
Tuesday at Varsity

Vincent Price, evil and inventive, decides to acquire vast riches by ensnaring wealthy men in traps baited with beautiful, lifelike robots which he "manufactures."

The bikini machine's prize product is Susan Hart. Dwayne Hickman and Frankie Avalon also star.

Albee, Ionesco And Old Bill

New York (AP) — The most popular playwrights on college stages last year were William Shakespeare, Edward Albee and Eugene Ionesco.

A survey by Alan A. Stambusky, assistant professor of dramatic art at the University of California, showed 292 exhibits of 29 plays by the bard; 137 for 5 by Albee; and 108 for 11 by Ionesco.

Cuts His Hair 'One at a Time'

Charles Bronson hasn't had a haircut in two years. At least he hasn't been to a barber for that length of time.

The rough-cut actor of Paramount's "This Property Is Condemned," starring Natalie Wood and Robert Redford, cuts his own hair —a piece at a time.

New Theater Planned In Colorado Springs

The Cooper Foundation announces plans to build a new Ute Theater in Colorado Springs.

The present Ute is being sold to the Colorado Interstate Gas Co. but the Cooper Foundation will continue to operate it until its successor is completed. Colorado Interstate plans a major building project in the area. The new Ute will be nearby.

E. N. Thompson of Lincoln, president of the Cooper Foundation, said the new Ute will be a luxury type structure. The foundation operates the Stuart and Nebraska theaters here. It has other theaters in Omaha, Minneapolis, Minn., and Denver, Colorado Springs and Greeley, Colo.

Unwritten Novels Sold

Hollywood (AP) — Author Irving Wallace, once a screenwriter, has been so successful with movie sales of his novels that 20th Century-Fox has contracted to buy three he hasn't even written yet.

That makes a nine out of nine sale to the movies.

It all started with "The Chapman Report." Then came "The Prize." Already sold and in production preparation are "The Three Sirens," "The Fabulous Showman," "The Twenty-Seventh Wife" and his current "The Sunday Gentleman."

The last is not a novel but an episodic account of his adventures around the world. Fox wants to use several of the adventures for a movie and the rest for a television anthology series.

"Since I once was a screenwriter, critics have accused me of writing directly for the movies," says Wallace. "Nothing could be further from the truth. Since I've left movie writing, I make it a point not even to go inside a studio.

"I just try to write honestly and, fortunately, the movies buy." Wallace was a high-paid screenwriter but as a novelist, he is a millionaire. "But I'm lonely. I never see anyone but the typewriter repairman."

Battle

'The War Lord'
Now at the Nebraska

Mail-clad warriors lock in combat in this exciting replay of Norman-Frisian battles of yore, with Richard Boone, Charlton Heston and Rosemary Forsyth co-starred.

Boone

Arrows fly and blood flows — and the primitive Druid right called "jus primae noctis" is exercised by Heston after he rescues a pretty swineherd from a pack of unkindly dogs.

TOTAL SCORE

Home viewers can use this form to test knowledge of U.S. laws and rights on CBS's "National Citizenship Test," 9 p.m. Tuesday. Twenty members each of the League of Women Voters in Lincoln, Grand Island and Omaha will meet in each town at air time to take the test, vying with the other two towns for highest score.

Theater Performance Sparks Shirley Booth

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

New York (AP) — Television brings performers into the nation's living rooms, family rooms and bedrooms and this one-way intimacy, that can turn an unknown into a star within a few weeks, still has some terrifying aspects.

The fear of losing identity as an actor is endemic. Last season it even infected Shirley Booth, by any yardstick one of the most brilliant performers of our generation.

"I wondered if, after four years of Hazel, an audience would accept me in another role," Miss Booth said. "The operators of a theatre in the San Fernando Valley were eager to see if they could present successfully something besides musical comedy. They asked me if I'd do 'Come Back, Little Sheba.' I decided to see what happened, and it was nice."

Hazel, after four happy NBC years, switched this season to CBS where it remains among the top one-third in audience popularity.

"The big danger in playing one character for a long time," Miss Booth said, is that eventually you are competing with yourself, quite forgetting in your effort to add something new and stimulating.

"I've never been a glamor queen," said the actress, who has more than 30 awards, including an Oscar, an Emmy and the 1953 Cannes Film Festival title of "World's Best Actress." "I've never, however, played any character which did not have some warmth."

As Hazel . . . Shirley Booth

This season the television audience will find a little less Hazel and a little more family in the comedy series. This is done on doctor's orders.

It's Week Full of Specials

TODAY: Robert Young, Carol Lawrence and William Walker star on NBC's Bell Telephone Hour, at 5:30 p.m., which presents happy occasions through the eyes of a small boy.

MONDAY: Perry Como's colorcast on NBC at 8 p.m., features Gertrude Berg, Bobby Vinton and the Lennon Sisters.

TUESDAY: CBS presents a comedy tribute, in color at 7:30 p.m., to Stan Laurel, the little man with the bow tie. ETV's History of Negro People, hosted by Ossie Davis, premieres over KUON-KLNE at 8 p.m. National Citizenship Test was rescheduled, following the power failure, and is aired over CBS at 9 p.m.

WEDNESDAY: Frank Sinatra stars in a one-man musical review of his favorite songs on NBC at 8 p.m. ABC's special on Pro Football: Mayhem on a Sunday Afternoon, set for 9 p.m., is not carried on KETV. Also NBC's special on Congress Needs Help, at 9 p.m., is not broadcast on KMTV, which carries a local special featuring the Omaha Symphony Orchestra in a Thanksgiving concert.

THURSDAY: Parades on CBS and NBC begin at 9 p.m. NBC follows up with an Underdog color special at 11 p.m. ABC has Sammy Davis and Wonderful World of Children in color at 4 p.m. Also at 4 is the ETV special U.N. Day Concert conducted by Leonard Bernstein.

In the evening, NBC telecasts Words and Music by Cole Porter, at 7:30, starring Maurice Chevalier, Robert Goulet, Nancy Ames and Peter Gennaro. Then, at 9 p.m. on ABC, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson conducts a tour of Washington D.C. on "behalf of a more beautiful America."

FRIDAY: at 9 p.m., two specials clash head-on. ETV offers "The Old Glory: Benito Cereno," a critical dramatization of American race and class attitudes. NBC preempts Man from UNCLE for the Incredible World of James Bond, narrated by Alexander Scourby — sort of a spy for a spy.

'Big Valley' Place Where Heroes Kiss Girls, Not Horses

By GINNY FISHER

If you turn on the TV to watch ABC's Big Valley, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, stand back. This show doesn't trot sedately on, it gallops.

Audiences have to be true "boot-shod and six-gun girdled cowpoke fans" to like it. Some shows termed "western" are merely dramas, comedies or what-have-you in frontier settings, but not so Big Valley. It's a rip-roaring, old-fashioned, fighting, lusty, hugh, blood-and-thunder western.

And the characters fit right in, as the program features a proud matriarch whose sons act grown-up (thank goodness) and whose daughter is a handful and then some.

Barbara Stanwyck portrays the widow Victoria, head of the Barkley clan. Her sons include hot-tempered ranch foreman Nick (Peter Breck), youthful student Eugene (Charles Briles) and stalwart attorney Jarrod (Richard Long). Lee Majors plays Heath, the rugged ramrod and illegitimate son of Victoria's dead husband. Throwing a curve (or two or three) at the show is Linda Evans as Audra, the beautiful but spoiled daughter.

The brothers, including Heath, aren't too sure of each other, so they're constantly smashing each other in the face—unless opposed by outsiders, then they smash them in the face. Audra dashes from one extreme to the other, first trying to prove she's alluring, then running for cover because she's proved herself too well.

Throughout all this, Victoria majestically walks down the sweeping staircase, soothes the children and then walks up again.

The only sorry note was that early in the series Miss Stanwyck was forced to keep her portrayal of Victoria tied to the staircase. However, later episodes, such as exploring Heath's background and helping deliver an Indian baby while trapped in a cave, made better use of her great talents.

This is an adult western (and not just because the heroes kiss girls instead of horses). Besides the ever-present shoot-em-ups, mobs, gangs and outlaws, the series presents a look at the moral problems, including, sex, adultery, broken promises and parent-child relations, of the time. The characters are sometimes honest but occasionally they lie, steal and cheat, too. All-in-all they don't differ too greatly from people today. This is a refreshing stand.

As Rick du Brow of the UPI summed up, the series is "straight and unpretentious and maybe that's the best way to make a western after all."

CONFUSED BY HEARING AID CLAIMS?

If you have been confused by the many types of hearing aids and claims of superior performance, here is important news for you! NOW, an amazing new instrument (NOT a hearing aid), developed by a leading manufacturer of hearing test instruments, can determine scientifically if a hearing aid can help you, and which type of aid is best for you!

Called the "PrecisionEar", this new instrument can duplicate the performance of all types of hearing aids, and in one simple "test fitting" show which aid offers the best correction for each individual hearing problem! ELIMINATES TROUBLESOME "TRIAL PERIODS", GUESSWORK, COSTLY EXPERIMENTING WITH VARIOUS AIDS!

Patented and available only to trained Maico consultants, the "PrecisionEar" enables you to find out quickly whether a hearing aid will benefit you, without having to try different aids, and WITHOUT COST!

If you would like a FREE ILLUSTRATED FOLDER with complete information on this new hearing aid fitting instrument and what it can mean to the person with a hearing problem, return the coupon below. You'll be under no obligation.

McQueen Wants To Look the Part (Indian)

It's the primitive life for Steve McQueen, on location near Lone Pine, Calif., starring in "Nevada Smith."

McQueen is living in a trailer parked on the side of a 6000-foot mountain, 18 miles from the nearest main highway. The closest house is 20 miles away and his only neighbors are the rats that inhabit a nearby abandoned mine shaft, assorted coyotes and one lone hawk which has hovered overhead since his arrival.

When not before the cameras, McQueen spends all his time, stripped to the waist, hiking around the mountains to acquire a deep-seated tan for his role as a part Indian.

Coogan's Child In Show Biz

Hollywood — Jackie Coogan is portraying a New York city fireman in the Warner Bros. motion picture, "A Fine Madness," starring Sean Connery and Joanne Woodward. Jackie obtained a leave of absence from "The Adams Family" TV show.

The actor, whom everyone old enough remembers as "The Kid," now has a kid of his own getting started in the business. She's 11-year-old daughter Leslie, who appears in TV commercials.

Gobbling Up Ruffing Tricks Can Lose Game

By HOWARD SCHENKEN AND RICHARD L. FREY

Gobbling up ruffing tricks can be the fastest way to set a hand, but not if declarer can ditch a loser while a defender has to spend a winning trump. South could not have brought home this game contract had East followed the maxim that it is unwise to compel partner to ruff losers.

Playing the Schenken system, North's Big Club opening (17 points minimum, including distribution) was the proper move on a hand that was fractionally over-strong for one no trump. East tried to sand the machinery with his one heart overcall, but the Schenken system is primed for interference; if the partner of the Big Club bidder holds the values for a positive response (nine points minimum, including 1½ quick tricks) he doubles the overcall; if he lacks the requirements, he is free to make a natural bid if it seems advisable.

South was therefore not condemned to silence on his six-point hand, as he would be in many systems—he was able to move toward the correct final contract by bidding one spade.

At the reasonable, but—as it happens—sinkable four spade contract, West opened a heart and dummy's jack went to East's king. East would have done best to shift to a club, since if he continued hearts he would merely compel West to ruff one of declarer's losers, but the lure of ruffing was too strong and East returned a heart. After this beginning, can you pretend you haven't seen the East-West cards and seize the chance to snitch 10 tricks?

East probably would have opened the bidding if he held a black king as well as a powerful heart suit, so there was no point in ruffing with the spade queen.

Instead, declarer threw a club while West ruffed; after West had returned a diamond, declarer plunked down the spade ace, cashed dummy's diamonds and threw West on lead with the spade king. On West's enforced club return, declarer stepped up with dummy's queen and claimed a contract that would have been set had East made the marked club return early in the game.

New Stamps Pall Beside Old Ones

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
Chicago Daily News Special

London — An unexpected reaction has followed a sensational postage stamp show at Buckingham Palace.

The exhibit consisted of 120 pages from the royal collection of 400 volumes and covers the first 40 years of British postage stamps, beginning with proofs and essays for the Penny Black, the world's first adhesive postage stamp. It came into use May 6, 1840.

Because many of the stamps shown in proof form were never actually issued, the exhibit was full of unique items, most of which never have been shown to the public.

The trouble with the show did not lie in the high quality of the merchandise—quite the contrary.

By glorifying the artistry and craftsmanship of the men who designed and made such stamps as the Penny Black and its magnificent companion-piece, the Tuppenny Blue, 125 years ago, the exhibit makes modern-day British stamps and those responsible for them look ridiculous.

The Penny Black stamp still ranks as one of the handsomest postage stamps of all time, even though you can still buy a perfect specimen for a few dollars.

Typical is the series of two Churchill commemorative stamps, which are still in circulation. A feature of the four penny stamp, a lugubrious affair in brown and black, is a white line which, due to sloppy printing, is often broken in the middle.

A Scottish schoolmarm who rushed to a stamp dealer, hoping to sell him an "error" at a high premium was told: "Sorry, Madame, they are all errors."

If modern British stamp makers are guilty of sloppy work, they have nothing on the people who produce Britain's present-day coins.

Compared with the sovereigns, crowns and shillings of yesteryear, they look like stage money. In the first place, unlike the beautiful silver coins of 50 or 100 years ago, they are made of base metal that isn't bright even when the coins are new.

This is a treat to which the American public is just now being exposed.

The late Sir Winston Churchill, one of Britain's greatest heroes of all times, has also fallen victim to the drop in coinage standards.

The new Churchill commemorative crown — nominally worth 5 shillings or 70c —is a numismatic monstrosity. Dropped on the floor, it sounds like a chunk of lead.

The milling around the edge of the coin looks as though it had been done in a prison machine shop.

Russian Secrets Spilled in Real Life Thriller

The Penkovskiy Papers. By Oleg Penkovskiy with commentary by Frank Gibney; Doubleday.

Imagine, suggests the newspaperman who supplies the commentary for this fascinating book, a combat-tested West Pointer, now vice-president of the Rand Corp. but secretly the director of a Central Intelligence Agency with a pipe line into the White House, a close friend of the SAC commander having many contacts in ruling Democratic Party circles.

Imagine him spilling hordes of military, political and economic secrets to the Communists for 16 months. Not even the Alger Hiss or Klaus Fuchs cases are of such magnitude.

But just such an intelligence disaster befell the Soviets in the early days of this decade, we are invited to believe.

Certainly Oleg Penkovskiy did exist, a very highly placed Soviet officer found guilty by a Russian tribunal in 1963 of spying. Reportedly, he has been executed.

Khrushchev's Downfall?

His unmasking as a single-handed espionage agent truly rocked the Russian power structure, although few vibrations were publicly recognized. Penkovskiy's treachery may even have contributed to Khrushchev's downfall.

We are further instructed that critical information passed out of Moscow by the Red Army colonel permitted President Kennedy to be successfully resolute in the Berlin and Cuban crises.

Was there ever such a source for the West in the Kremlin?

Presented here are the fragmentary memoirs of Penkovskiy, mysteriously smuggled from behind the Iron Curtain. Some sources think the papers really are transcripts of documents or tape recordings given British and U.S. intelligence people and published now for a particular purpose.

Vagueness of the papers' transmittal hides the truth. One suggestion advanced to this reviewer by a knowledgable individual is that the West may have recently sustained a major intelligence blow in the perpetual spy war. We may need a little face saving.

(Editor's Note: Several days after this review was written, it was announced that two U S army specialists, including an intellligence man, were missing Loss of the intelligence agent, it was said, may set the U.S. spy network behind the Iron Curtain back five to 10 years.)

Let that cloud pass. The meat is a story of a patriotic Russian who turned against the Communist system.

High Priority Secrets

Oleg Penkovskiy comes through as one revolted by the crassness, hypocrisy and evil of the Soviet elite, appalled by military recklessness and adventurism of Khrushchev.

To warn the West of Mr. K's nuclear war design, Penkovskiy successfully contacted British Intelligence in 1961. Until October, 1962, he furnished the Free World with high priority secrets. A few are published in "The Penkovskiy Papers."

The alleged Penkovskiy drafts basically constitute bona fides, warnings and an uncommon inside look at the Soviet rulers, plus an accounting of the labyrinthian espionage and secret police network.

We are presented with a system, repulsive by our democratic lights. It chills. It fascinates.

If factual—and there seems no valid reason to be 100% skeptical—the Penkovskiy papers contribute much to Western appreciation of the Russian shakers and movers.

U2 'Shaken Down'

We should appreciate, too, the military estimate that 120 missiles of 20-megaton yield are deemed sufficient to make the U.S.A a radioactive wasteland, that Russian field commanders are free to use chemical warfare on a tactical basis, that poisoning of drinking water supplies is in the works in nations to be overrun, that assassinations have been projected, when necessary, in Washington, London and New York.

Also revealed is Khrushchev's lie to the effect Gary Powers' U2 came down from a direct missile hit.

Penkovskiy says the vibrations from 14 missiles shook the U.S. spy plane from the sky. One of the missiles blasted a Mig 19 accidentally, too. Had Powers been a mile or so on another course, Penkovskiy observes he would have been home free.

Another item, put most obliquely: Russian cosmonauts have died in the past, trapped in space or immolated by launching pad explosions.

NOTES AND SKETCHES FROM PAUL BROWN'S
INQUISITIVE PEN

Hearst's La Casa Grande

William Randolph Hearst's fabulous "La Casa Grande" castle is located near the seaside village of San Simeon.

The Hearst Corp. gift-deeded the grounds and buildings to the State of California in 1958.

The San Simeon property totals 240,000 acres including more than 50 miles of ocean frontage!

La Casa Grande is the main structure at San Simeon. Construction was begun in 1922 Hundreds of workers were used to haul materials up the hillside and erect the "castle" with its twin Spanish-Moresque towers. The towers hold 36 Belgian carillon bells, controlled by a piano keyboard. Inside are 38 bedrooms, 14 sitting rooms, 31 bathrooms, libraries, studies, billiard room, hotel-style kitchen, dining halls, theater — 100 rooms in all.

W. R. Hearst spent $1,000,000 a year for 50 years collecting antique furniture and art objects. Most of them are here at San Simeon

Included in the castle's furnishings are the contents of Italian monastaries, French chateaux and church edifices, Greek and Roman temples and English castles. Cardinal Richelieu's bed is here plus priceless rare tapestries and rugs.

Billions of Wings Stilled Forever

The Silent Sky. By Allan W. Eckert; Little, Brown

The beautiful passenger pigeon which filled American skies with the roar of billions of pairs of wings is no more Only stuffed specimens remain in museums, including Morrill Hall at the University of Nebraska

Extinction came to this commercially valuable bird through a combination of wanton depredation by man and natural forces

This novel, a fascinating format for such a tale, is the story of the last wild surviving passenger pigeon, shot by a boy with a BB gun in Pike County, O., in 1900. The last captive bird died in 1914 in the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens, leaving the once roaring skies silent.

Prized as a source of meat and feathers for beds and pillows, the passenger pigeon, in seemingly inexhaustible supply, was the source of income for thousands of hunters.

With huge nets stretched across the forest and river flyways, and with many other forms of mass slaughter, hunters reduced the once great flocks to pitiable remnants.

"A good netter with an experienced crew," Eckert writes, "could capture upwards of 20 to 50 barrels of birds per day and, at 300 birds per barrel, that was a gold mine.

"A single barrel of beheaded and gutted birds, iced down and shipped to Chicago, brought $25.00, and those taken alive for trapshooting could be sold right on the spot for 25 cents per dozen, and double that in crates aboard boxcars in Wausau."

With skill, the author tells of the rapid diminution of the species which fell victim to man and elements through its own gregarious nature

Togetherness, making the birds easy prey to man and natural predators, also was a major factor in subjecting the last small flocks to concentrated blows from fog, sleet, cold and snow—with disastrous casualties.

Passenger pigeon . . . Nebraska State Museum display.

Thus the birds in migration from Florida to the Great Lakes and other northern areas fell victim to man en route and in their nesting areas as guns, clubs and flaming birch trees drove them from their homes and to annihilation.

Saul Bellow Bounces Back

New York (AP) — Novelist Saul Bellow isn't giving up as a dramatist

His first play, "The last Analysis," split the critics last season and racked up only a brief run. Since then he has been polishing his skill on one-acters, and a threesome are to be produced off-Broadway this season by Lyn Austin. Their titles: "The Wrecker," "The Wen" and "The Orange Souffle."

Evening With Royal Ballet

Fonteyn, Nureyev Dance in Movie

Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolph Nureyev, the two principle stars of England's Royal Ballet, differ greatly in personality, background and age, yet in the ballet, they prove ideal partners.

The electrifying ballet "Le Corsaire" is associated primarily with them. Their presentation, far removed from the original Mazilier-Adam work, has music by Drigo and Petipa's choreography with Nureyev's added interpretations

"Le Corsaire," including the pas de deux, two solos and coda, is climaxed by a series of startling leaps that spotlight the artistry of both the prima ballerina and the male dancer.

Lincoln area audiences will be able to see the pair in excerpts from "Le Corsaire" plus "Les Sylphides" in the Technicolor film "An Evening With the Royal Ballet" at the Varsity Theater Dec. 8-9.

"Aurora's Wedding" and "La Valse" are also included in the film which will be shown at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m both days.

Dame Margot was born May 18, 1919, in Reigate Surrey, England. She is the first great ballerina produced by the English school.

Considered the greatest ballerina dancing today, her most popular roles include Princess Aurora, Giselle, Chloe and Marguerite.

Married to the former Panamanian Ambassador to London, Roberto Arias, she holds the title Dame of the British Empire and is President of Royal Academy of Dancing.

Nureyev, born March 17, 1938, in eastern Siberia, joined the Kirov Ballet Company in Leningrad at age 17. When he was 23 the company visited Paris and he sought political asylum in the West. He soon joined the Royal Ballet and is presently considered the greatest male dancer since Nijinsky. He combines the classic Russian ballet with the zest characteristic of the interpretive ballets of the West and has blended them into his own distinct mode.
